

I. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF TAXATION

A. Definition and concept of taxation

B. Nature of taxation

Congress passed a sin tax law that increased the tax rates on cigarettes by 1,000%. The law was thought to be sufficient to drive many cigarette companies out of business, and was questioned in court by a cigarette company that would go out of business because it would not be able to pay the increased tax.

The cigarette company is _____ (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) wrong because taxes are the lifeblood of the government
- (B) wrong because the law recognizes that the power to tax is the power to destroy
- (C) correct because no government can deprive a person of his livelihood
- (D) correct because Congress, in this case, exceeded its power to tax

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) wrong because the law recognizes that the power to tax is the power to destroy

In McCulloch v. Maryland,¹ Chief Justice Marshall declared that the power to tax involves the power to destroy. This maxim only means that the power to tax includes the power to regulate even to the extent of prohibition or destruction of businesses. The reason is that the legislature has the inherent power to determine who to tax, what to tax and how much tax is to be imposed. Pursuant to the regulatory purpose of taxation, the legislature may impose tax in order to discourage or prohibit things or enterprises inimical to the public welfare.²

In the given problem, the legislature's imposition of prohibitive sin tax on cigarettes is congruent with its purpose of discouraging the public from smoking cigarettes which are hazardous to health.

C. Characteristics of taxation

XYZ Corporation manufactures glass panels and is almost at the point of insolvency. It has no more cash and all it has are unsold glass panels. It received an assessment from the BIR for deficiency income taxes. It wants to pay but due to lack of cash, it seeks permission to pay in kind with glass panels.

Should the BIR grant the requested permission? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) It should grant permission to make payment convenient to taxpayers.
- (B) It should not grant permission because a tax is generally a pecuniary burden.
- (C) It should grant permission; otherwise, XYZ Corporation would not be able to pay.
- (D) It should not grant permission because the government does not have the storage facilities for glass panels.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

¹US 4 Wheat 316, 31 r I/Ed. 579.

²Dimaampao, Tax Principles and Remedies, 2008 ed., pp. 19-20.

(B) It should not grant permission because a tax is generally a pecuniary burden.

This principle is one of the attributes or characteristics of tax.³

D. Power of taxation compared with other powers

- 1. Police power
- 2. Power of eminent domain

E. Purpose of taxation

- 1. Revenue-raising
- 2. Non-revenue/special or regulatory

Money collected from taxation shall not be paid to any religious dignitary EXCEPT when: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) the religious dignitary is assigned to the Philippine Army
- (B) it is paid by a local government unit
- (C) the payment is passed in audit by the COA
- (D) it is part of a lawmaker's pork barrel

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) the religious dignitary is assigned to the Philippine Army

F. Principles of sound tax system

- 1. Fiscal adequacy
- 2. Administrative feasibility
- 3. Theoretical justice

Anne Lapada, a student activist, wants to impugn the validity of a tax on text messages. Aside from claiming that the law adversely affects her since she sends messages by text, what may she allege that would strengthen her claim to the right to file a taxpayer's suit? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) That she is entitled to the return of the taxes collected from her in case the court nullifies the tax measure.
- (B) That tax money is being extracted and spent in violation of the constitutionally guaranteed right to freedom of communication.
- (C) That she is filing the case in behalf of a substantial number of taxpayers.
- (D) That text messages are an important part of the lives of the people she represents.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) That tax money is being extracted and spent in violation of the constitutionally guaranteed right to freedom of communication.

Real property taxes should not disregard increases in the value of real property occurring over a long period of time. To do otherwise would violate the canon of a sound tax system referred to as: (2011 Bar Question)

³ Benjamin B. Aban, Law of Basic Taxation in the Philippines (Revised Ed.), p. 2, citing 1 Cooley 63.

- (A) theoretical justice.
- (B) fiscal adequacy.
- (C) administrative feasibility.
- (D) symbiotic relationship.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) fiscal adequacy

Explain the principles of a sound tax system. (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The principles of a sound tax system are the following:

- a. Fiscal adequacy which means that the sources of revenue should be sufficient to meet the demands of public expenditures;
- b. Equality or theoretical justice which means that the tax burden should be proportionate to the taxpayer's ability to pay (this is the so-called ability to pay principle); and
- c. Administrative feasibility which means that the tax law should be capable of convenience, just and effective administration.

G. Theory and basis of taxation

1. Lifeblood theory

Which statement below expresses the lifeblood theory? (2012 Bar Question)

- a) The assessed taxes must be enforced by the government.
- b) The underlying basis of taxation is government necessity, for without taxation, a government can neither exist nor endure;
- c) Taxation is an arbitrary method of exaction by those who are in the seat of power;
- d) The power of taxation is an inherent power of the sovereign to impose burdens upon subjects and objects within its jurisdiction for the purpose of raising revenues.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

b) The underlying basis of taxation is government necessity, for without taxation, a government can neither exist nor endure

Taxes are the lifeblood of the government, for without taxes, the government can neither exist nor endure. A principal attribute of sovereignty, the exercise of taxing power derives its source from the very existence of the state whose social contract with its citizens obliges it to promote public interest and common good. The theory behind the exercise of the power to tax emanates from necessity; without taxes, government cannot fulfill its mandate of promoting the general welfare and well-being of the people. (National Power Corporation vs. City of Cabanatuan)

2. Necessity theory

3. Benefits-protection theory (Symbiotic relationship)

4. Jurisdiction over subject and objects

Which theory in taxation states that without taxes, a government would be paralyzed for lack of power to activate and operate it, resulting in its destruction? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Power to destroy theory
- (B) Lifeblood theory
- (C) Sumptuary theory
- (D) Symbiotic doctrine

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Lifeblood theory

The power to tax is the power to destroy. Is this always so? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) No. The Executive Branch may decide not to enforce a tax law which it believes to be confiscatory.
- (B) Yes. The tax collectors should enforce a tax law even if it results to the destruction of the property rights of a taxpayer.
- (C) Yes. Tax laws should always be enforced because without taxes the very existence of the State is endangered.
- (D) No. The Supreme Court may nullify a tax law, hence, property rights are not affected.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) No. The Supreme Court may nullify a tax law, hence, property rights are not affected.

H. Doctrines in taxation

- 1. Prospectivity of tax laws
- 2. Imprescriptibility
- 3. Double taxation

Choose the correct answer. Double Taxation - (1%)

- (A) is one of direct duplicate taxations wherein two (2) taxes must be imposed on the same subject matter, by the same taxing authority, within the same jurisdiction, during the same period, with the same kind or character of tax, even if the purposes of imposing the same are different.
 - (B) is forbidden by law; and therefore, it is a valid defense against the validity of a tax measure.
 - (C) means taxing the same property twice when it should be taxed only once; it is tantamount to taxing the same person twice by the same jurisdiction for the same thing.
 - (D) exists when a corporation is assessed with local business tax as a manufacturer, and at the same time, value-added tax as a person selling goods in the course of trade or business.
- (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

A. Double taxation is one of direct duplicate taxations wherein two (2) taxes must be imposed on the same subject matter, by the same taxing authority, within the same jurisdiction, during the same period, with the same kind of character of tax, even if the purposes of imposing the same are different.

a) Strict sense

Differentiate between double taxation in the strict sense and in a broad sense and give an example of each. (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Double taxation in the strict sense pertains to the direct double taxation. This means that the taxpayer is taxed twice by the same taxing authority, within the same taxing jurisdiction, for the same property and same purpose.

On the other hand, double taxation in broad sense pertains to indirect double taxation. This extends to all cases in which there is a burden of two or more impositions. It is the double taxation other than those covered by direct double taxation.

b) Broad sense

c) Constitutionality of double taxation

d) Modes of eliminating double taxation

In 2009, Caruso, a resident Filipino citizen, received dividend income from a U.S.-based corporation which owns a chain of Filipino restaurants in the West Coast, U.S.A. The dividend remitted to Caruso is subject to U.S. withholding tax with respect to a non-resident alien like Caruso.

- a. What will be your advice to Caruso in order to lessen the impact of possible double taxation on the same income?
- b. Would your answer in A. be the same if Caruso became a U.S. immigrant in 2008 and had become a non-resident Filipino citizen? Explain the difference in treatment for Philippine income tax purposes.(2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- a. Caruso has the option either to claim the amount of the income tax withheld in US as a deduction from his gross income in the Philippines or to claim it as a tax credit.
- b. No. The income from abroad of a non-resident citizen is exempt from the Philippine income tax. There is no international double taxation on the said income.

Bank A deposit money with Bank B which earns interest that is subjected to the 20% final withholding tax. At the same time, Bank A is subjected to the 5% gross receipts tax on its interest income on loan transactions to customers. Which statement below INCORRECTLY describes the transaction? (2012 Bar Question)

- a) There is double taxation because two taxes – income tax and gross receipts tax are imposed on the interest incomes described above and double taxation is prohibited under the 1987 Constitution
- b) There is no double taxation because the first tax is income tax, while the second tax is business tax;
- c) There is no double taxation because the income tax is on the interest income of Bank A on its deposits with Bank B (passive income), while the gross receipts tax is on the interest income received by Bank A from loans to its debtor-customers (active income);
- d) Income tax on interest income of deposits of Bank A is a direct tax, while GRT on interest income on loan transaction is an indirect tax.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a) There is double taxation because two taxes – income tax and gross receipts tax are imposed on the interest incomes described above and double taxation is prohibited under the 1987 Constitution

There is no double taxation if the law imposes two different taxes on the same income, business or property. First, the taxes herein are imposed on two different subject matters. The subject matter of the FWT [Final Withholding Tax] is the passive income generated in the form of interest on deposits and yield on deposit substitutes, while the subject matter of the GRT [Gross Receipts Tax] is the privilege of engaging in the business of banking. Second, although both taxes are national in scope because they are imposed by the same taxing authority - the national government under the Tax Code - and operate within the same Philippine jurisdiction for the same purpose of raising revenues, the taxing periods they affect are different. The FWT is deducted and withheld as soon as the income is earned, and is paid after every calendar quarter in which it is earned. On the other hand, the GRT is neither deducted nor withheld, but is paid only after every taxable quarter in which it is earned. (Commissioner of Internal Revenue vs. BPI, G.R. No. 147375)

Double taxation in its general sense means taxing the same subject twice during the same taxing period. In this sense, double taxation: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) violates substantive due process.
- (B) does not violate substantive due process.
- (C) violates the right to equal protection.
- (D) does not violate the right to equal protection.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) violates the right to equal protection.

Mr. Alas sells shoes in Makati through a retail store. He pays the VAT on his gross sales to the BIR and the municipal license tax based on the same gross sales to the City of Makati. He comes to you for advice because he thinks he is being subjected to double taxation.

What advice will you give him? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) Yes, there is double taxation and it is oppressive.
- (B) The City of Makati does not have this power.
- (C) Yes, there is double taxation and this is illegal in the Philippines.
- (D) Double taxation is allowed where one tax is imposed by the national government and the other by the local government.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) Double taxation is allowed where one tax is imposed by the national government and the other by the local government.

There is double taxation when one tax is imposed by the national government and the other is imposed by a local government unit.⁴ However, the 1987 Constitution does not forbid double taxation. In Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of the Philippines, Inc. v. Municipality of Tanauan (G.R. No. L-31156, February 27, 1976), the Supreme Court declared that double taxation does not violate the uniformity rule nor does it infringe the equal protection guarantee just because one tax is imposed by the national government and the other tax is levied by a local government unit.

4. Escape from taxation

a) Shifting of tax burden

(i) Ways of shifting the tax burden

(ii) Taxes that can be shifted

(iii) Meaning of impact and incidence of taxation

b) Tax avoidance

Choose the correct answer. Tax Avoidance -

- (A) is a scheme used outside of those lawful means and, when availed of, it usually subjects the taxpayer to further or additional civil or criminal liabilities.
- (B) is a tax saving device within the means sanctioned by law.
- (C) is employed by a corporation, the organization of which is prompted more on the mitigation of tax liabilities than for legitimate business purpose.
- (D) is any form of tax deduction scheme, regardless if the same is legal or not. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

B. Tax avoidance is a tax-saving device within the means sanctioned by law.

c) Tax evasion

You are the retained tax counsel of ABC Corp. Your client informed you that they have been directly approached with a proposal by a BIR insider (i.e., a middle rank BIR official) on the tax matter they have referred to you for handling. The BIR insider's proposal is to settle the matter by significantly reducing the assessment, but he will get 50% of the savings arising from the reduced assessment.

⁴Dimaampao, Tax Principles and Remedies, 2008 ed., p. 127

What tax, criminal and ethical considerations will you take into account in giving your advice? Explain the relevance of each of these considerations. (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

As a lawyer, I have the responsibility to give only a lawful advice. Canon I of the Code of Professional Responsibility mandates me to “uphold the Constitution, obey the laws of the land and promote respect for law and legal processes. Rule 1.01 states that “a lawyer shall not engage in unlawful, dishonest, immoral or deceitful conduct.” Rule 1.02 provides that “a lawyer shall not counsel or abet activities aimed at defiance of the law or at lessening confidence in the legal system.”

Therefore, I will advise my client not to agree with the proposal of the BIR officer. Agreeing with the proposal will result in criminal prosecution under the following laws:

Under the NIRC, the officers of the board who authorized the tax evasion will be liable under Section 253(C), while the corporation shall be liable under Section 256.

The BIR official is liable under Section 269 which provides for the violations committed by government enforcement officers. Paragraph (d) of Section 269 provides that one of these violations is “offering or undertaking to accomplish, file or submit a report or assessment on a taxpayer without the appropriate examination of the books of accounts or tax liability, or offering or undertaking to submit a report or assessment less than the amount due the Government for any consideration or compensation, or conspiring or colluding with another or others to defraud the revenues or otherwise violate the provisions of this Code.”

Under the Revised Penal Code, the officers of the corporation shall be liable under Article 212 for corruption of public officials while the BIR official is liable for direct bribery.

Both my client and the BIR official will also be liable under Republic Act No. 3019 or the Anti-Graft and Corrupt Practices Act.

On August 31, 2014, Haelton Corporation (HC), thru its authorized representative Ms. Pares, sold a 16-storey commercial building known as Haeltown Building to Mr. Belly for P100 million. Mr. Belly, in turn, sold the same property on the same day to Bell Gates, Inc. (BGI) for P200 million. These two (2) transactions were evidenced by two (2) separate Deeds of Absolute Sale notarized on the same day by the same notary public.

Investigations by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) showed that:

(1) the Deed of Absolute Sale between Mr. Belly and BGI was notarized ahead of the sale between HC and Mr. Belly; (2) as early as May 17, 2014, HC received P40 million from BGI, and not from Mr. Belly; (3) the said payment of P40 million was recorded by BGI in its books as of June 30, 2014 as investment in Haeltown Building; and (4) the substantial portion of P40 million was withdrawn by Ms. Pares through the declaration of cash dividends to all its stockholders.

Based on the foregoing, the BIR sent Haeltown Corporation a Notice of Assessment for deficiency income tax arising from an alleged simulated sale of the aforesaid commercial building to escape the higher corporate income tax rate of thirty percent (30%). What is the liability of Haeltown Corporation, if any? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

The tax planning scheme adopted by Haeltown Corporation constitutes tax evasion. According to CIR v. Estate of Benigno Toda (G.R. No. 147188, September 14, 2004), a transaction where a taxpayer made it appear that there were two sales of the property was considered “tainted with fraud.” The sole purpose of acquiring and transferring title of the property on the same day was to create a tax shelter. The sale to Mr. Belly (which is subject to individual capital gains tax) was to mislead the BIR and avoid the higher corporate income tax.

- b) The construction of a statute made by his predecessors is not binding upon the successor, if thereafter he becomes satisfied that a different construction should be given;
- c) The reversal of a ruling shall not generally be given retroactive application, if said reversal will be prejudicial to the taxpayer;
- d) A memorandum circular promulgated by the CIR that imposes penalty for violations of certain rules need not be published in a newspaper of general circulation or official gazette because it has the force and effect of law.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

d) A memorandum circular promulgated by the CIR that imposes penalty for violations of certain rules need not be published in a newspaper of general circulation or official gazette because it has the force and effect of law.

A revenue memorandum circular shall not begin to be operative until after due notice thereof maybe fairly presumed. (Commissioner of Internal Revenue vs. Philippine Airlines, G.R. No. 180066, July 8, 2009)

The BIR, through the Commissioner, instituted a system requiring taxpayers to submit to the BIR a summary list of their sales and purchases during the year, indicating the name of the seller or the buyer and the amount. Based on these lists, the BIR discovered that in 2004 ABC Corp. purchased from XYZ Corp. goods worth P5,000,000. XYZ Corp. did not declare these for income tax purposes as its reported gross sales for 2004 was only P1,000,000.

Which of the following defenses may XYZ Corp. interpose in an assessment against it by the BIR? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The BIR has no authority to obtain third party information to assess taxpayers.
- (B) The third party information is inadmissible as hearsay evidence.
- (C) The system of requiring taxpayers to submit third party information is illegal for violating the right to privacy.
- (D) None of the above.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) None of the above.

Section 6(B) of the NIRC authorizes the Commissioner to assess the property tax due from a taxpayer when he believes that the report the taxpayer submitted is false, incomplete, or erroneous. The same provision authorizes the Commissioner to amend the return from his own knowledge and from such information he can obtain through testimony or otherwise, which is deemed prima facie correct and sufficient for all legal purposes.

- b) Generally, there is no limit on the amount of tax that may be imposed;

Guidant Resources Corporation, a corporation registered in Norway, has a 50 MW electric power plant in San Jose, Batangas. Aside from Guidant's income from its power plant, which among the following is considered as part of its income from sources within the Philippines? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Gains from the sale to an Ilocos Norte power plant of generators bought from the United States.
- (B) Interests earned on its dollar deposits in a Philippine bank under the Expanded Foreign Currency Deposit System.
- (C) Dividends from a two-year old Norwegian subsidiary with operations in Zambia but derives 60% of its gross income from the Philippines.
- (D) Royalties from the use in Brazil of generator sets designed in the Philippines by its engineers.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) Gains from the sale to an Ilocos Norte power plant of generators bought from the United States.

(2) From sources without the Philippines

Triple Star, a domestic corporation, entered into a Management Service Contract with Single Star, a non-resident foreign corporation with no property in the Philippines. Under the contract, Single Star shall provide managerial services for Triple Star's Hongkong branch. All said services shall be performed in Hongkong.

Is the compensation for the services of Single Star taxable as income from sources within the Philippines? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. Pursuant to the case of Commissioner of Internal Revenue v. Baier-Nickel (G.R. No. 153793, August 29, 2006), the factor which determines the source of income for personal services is the place where the services were actually rendered. Since Single Star, a non-resident foreign corporation, will perform all the managerial services for Triple Star's branch in Hong Kong, all compensation income arising from the performance of such services will be considered income from sources outside the Philippines, and therefore not subject to Philippine income tax.

VII. The municipality of San Isidro passed an ordinance imposing a tax on installation managers. At that time, there was only one installation manager in the municipality; thus, only he would be liable for the tax.

Is the law constitutional? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) It is unconstitutional because it clearly discriminates against this person.
- (B) It is unconstitutional for lack of legal basis.
- (C) It is constitutional as it applies to all persons in that class.
- (D) It is constitutional because the power to tax is the power to destroy.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) It is constitutional as it applies to all persons in that class.

The ordinance imposing tax on installation managers does not violate the equal protection clause under Section 1, Article III of the Constitution and the uniformity rule under Section 28, Article VI of the Constitution. The equal protection clause simply means that all persons subject to legislation shall be treated alike under like circumstances and conditions both in privileges conferred and liabilities imposed. On the other hand, the uniformity rule states that a tax is uniform when it operates with the same force and effect in every place where the subject of it is found. It does not signify an intrinsic but simply a geographical uniformity. (See: British American Tobacco v. Camacho, G.R. No. 163583, April 15, 2009)

In the given problem, the ordinance applies to all installation manager. In other words, the ordinance does not specifically identify who among the installation managers shall be liable for tax. The fact that there is only one installation manager in the municipality does not mean that the taxing authority singled him out as the only taxable person.

Choose the correct answer. Tax laws - (1%)

- (A) may be enacted for the promotion of private enterprise or business for as long as it gives incidental advantage to the public or the State
- (B) are inherently legislative; therefore, may not be delegated
- (C) are territorial in nature; hence, they do not recognize the generally-accepted tenets of international law
- (D) adhere to uniformity and equality when all taxable articles or kinds of property of the same class are taxable at the same rate (2014 Bar Question)

D. Tax laws adhere to uniformity and equality when all taxable articles or kinds of property of the same class are taxable at the same rate.

What is the rule on the taxability of income that a government educational institution derives from its school operations? Such income is: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) subject to 10% tax on its net taxable income as if it is a proprietary educational institution.

- (B) Exempt from income taxation if it is actually, directly, and exclusively used for educational purposes.
- (C) subject to the ordinary income tax rates with respect to incomes derived from educational activities.
- (D) Exempt from income taxation in the same manner as government-owned and controlled corporations.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Exempt from income taxation if it is actually, directly, and exclusively used for educational purposes.

(v) Prohibition against taxation of non-stock, non-profit institutions

A group of philanthropists organized a non-stock, non-profit hospital for charitable purposes to provide medical services to the poor. The hospital also accepted paying patients although none of its income accrued to any private individual; all income were plowed back for the hospital's use and not more than 30% of its funds were used for administrative purposes.

Is the hospital subject to tax on its income? If it is, at what rate? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The non-stock, non-profit hospital's income from paying patients is subject to a preferential income tax of 10%.

In Commissioner of Internal Revenue v. St. Luke's Medical Center, the Supreme Court laid down the rules on the treatment of income tax of non-profit hospitals. Pursuant to Sec. 30(E) and (G) of the NIRC, these hospitals are exempt from income tax with respect to their activities conducted exclusively for charitable or social welfare purposes. However, they are subject to a preferential income tax rate of 10% under charitable or social welfare purposes.

Mr. Amado leased a piece of land owned by the Municipality of Pinagsabitan and built a warehouse on the property for his business operations. The Municipal Assessor assessed Mr. Amado for real property taxes on the land and the warehouse. Mr. Amado objected to the assessment, contending that he should not be asked to pay realty taxes on the land since it is municipal property.

Was the assessment proper? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The assessment was proper.

Under Section 217 of the LGC, real property shall be classified, valued and assessed on the basis of its actual use regardless of where located, whoever owns it, and whoever uses it. A related and complementary provision is Section 234(a) of the LGC which provides that a real property owned by the Republic of the Philippines or any of its political subdivisions is exempt from realty taxes, except when the beneficial use thereof has been granted, for consideration or otherwise, to a taxable person.

In the given problem, Mr. Arnado, as lessee of the land owned by the Municipality, is the actual user of the land and is liable for the realty taxes. Therefore, the assessment was proper.

LLL is a government instrumentality created by Executive Order to be primarily responsible for integrating and directing all reclamation projects for the National Government. It was not organized as a stock or a non-stock corporation, nor was it intended to operate commercially and compete in the private market.

By virtue of its mandate, LLL reclaimed several portions of the foreshore and offshore areas of the Manila Bay, some of which were within the territorial jurisdiction of Q City. Certificates of title to the reclaimed properties in Q City were issued in the name of LLL in 2008. In 2014, Q City issued Warrants of Levy on said reclaimed properties of LLL based on the assessment for delinquent property taxes for the years 2010 to 2013.

- a. Are the reclaimed properties registered in the name of LLL subject to real property tax?
- b. Will your answer be the same in (a) if from 2010 to the present time, LLL is leasing portions of the reclaimed properties for the establishment and use of popular fastfood restaurants J Burgers, G Pizza, and K Chicken? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. The reclaimed properties are not subject to real property tax because LLL is a government instrumentality. Instrumentality refers to any agency of the National Government, not integrated within the department framework vested with special functions or jurisdiction by law, endowed with some if not all corporate powers, administering special funds, and enjoying operational autonomy, usually through a charter. Under the law, real property owned by the Republic of the Philippines (Republic) is exempt from real property tax unless the beneficial use thereof has been granted to a taxable person. When the title of the real property is transferred to LLL, the Republic remains the owner of the real property. Thus, such arrangement does not result in the loss of the tax exemption.

b. No. As a rule, properties owned by the Republic of the Philippines are exempt from real property tax except when the beneficial use thereof has been granted, for consideration or otherwise, to a taxable person. LLL leased out portions of the reclaimed properties to a taxable entity, such as the popular fastfood restaurant, hence the reclaimed properties are subject to real property tax.

What is the "rational basis" test? Explain briefly. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

This test is applied to gauge the constitutionality of an assailed law in the face of an equal protection challenge. It has been held that “in areas of social and economic policy, a statutory classification that neither proceeds along suspect lines nor infringes constitutional rights must be upheld against equal protection challenge if there is any reasonably conceivable state of facts that could provide a rational basis for the classification”. Under the rational basis test, it is sufficient that the legislative classification is rationally related to achieving some legitimate State interest.

Aleta sued Boboy for breach of promise to marry. Boboy lost the case and duly paid the court's award that included, among others, P100,000 as moral damages for the mental anguish Aleta suffered.

Did Aleta earn a taxable income? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (B) She had no taxable income because it was a donation.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) She had no taxable income since moral damages are compensatory.

Hopeful Corporation obtained a loan from Generous Bank and executed a mortgage on its real property to secure the loan. When Hopeful Corporation failed to pay the loan, Generous Bank extrajudicially foreclosed the mortgage on the property and acquired the same as the highest bidder. A month after the foreclosure, Hopeful Corporation exercised its right of redemption and was able to redeem the property. Is Generous Bank liable to pay capital gains tax as a result of the foreclosure sale? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. Since Hopeful Corporation exercised its right to redeem the property, Generous Bank is not liable to pay capital gains tax on the foreclosure sale. As stated in the analogous case of Supreme Transliner, Inc., v. BPI Family Savings Bank, Inc. (G.R. No. 165617, February 25, 2011, 644 SCRA 59), Rev. Regs. No. 4-99 expressly provides that if a mortgagor exercises his right of redemption within one year from the issuance of the certificate of sale, no capital gains tax shall be imposed because no sale or transfer of real property was realized. It is only in case of non-redemption by Hopeful Corporation that the obligation to pay capital gains tax arises, which shall be based on the bid price of the highest bidder. The tax will be imposed only upon the expiration of the one-year period of redemption. Furthermore, the obligation to pay the capital gains tax would primarily fall on the mortgagor, Hopeful Corporation, and not on Generous Bank.

(iii) Recognition of income

Mr. A was preparing his income tax return and had some doubt on whether a commission he earned should be declared for the current year or for the succeeding year. He sought the opinion of his lawyer who advised him to report the commission in the succeeding year. He heeded his lawyer's advice and reported the commission in the succeeding year. The lawyer's advice turned out to be wrong; in Mr. A's petition against the BIR assessment, the court ruled against Mr. A.

Is Mr. A guilty of fraud? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) Mr. A is not guilty of fraud as he simply followed the advice of his lawyer.
- (B) Mr. A is guilty of fraud; he deliberately did not report the commission in the current year when he should have done so.
- (C) Mr. A's lawyer should pay the tax for giving the wrong advice.
- (D) Mr. A is guilty for failing to consult his accountant.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) Mr. A is not guilty of fraud as he simply followed the advice of his lawyer.

In Santos v. People of the Philippines and BIR, the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) acquitted Santos from the criminal case of tax evasion and ruled that failure to supply correct and accurate information must be fully established as a positive act or state of mind; it cannot be presumed nor attributed to mere inadvertent or negligent acts. Moreover, the CTA reiterated the doctrine in Yulivo Sons hardware v. Court of Tax Appeals (G.R. No. L- 13203), January 28, 1961, 1 SCRA 169) that mere understatement of a tax is not itself proof of fraud for the purpose of tax evasion.

In the present case, Mr. A relied in good faith on the expertise of his lawyer in not declaring his income for that year. Therefore, he is not guilty of fraud.

 - (iii) Economic benefit test, doctrine of proprietary interest
 - (iv) Severance test
 - (v) All events test

What is the "all events test"? Explain briefly. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The "all events test" is a test applied in the realization of income and expense by an accrual-basis taxpayer. The test requires (a) the fixing of a right to the income or liability to pay, and (b) the availability of reasonably accurate determination of such income or deduction during the taxable year.

The "all events test" refers to: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) A person who uses the cash method where all sales have been fully paid by the buyers thereof;
- b) A person who uses the installment sales method, where the full amount of consideration is paid in full by the buyer thereof within the year of sale;
- c) A person who uses the accrual method, whereby an expense is deductible for the taxable year in which all the events had occurred which determined the fact of the liability and the amount thereof could be determined with reasonable accuracy;
- d) A person who uses the completed method, whereby the construction project has been completed during the year the contract was signed.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

c) A person who uses the accrual method, whereby an expense is deductible for the taxable year in which all the events had occurred which determined the fact of the liability and the amount thereof could be determined with reasonable accuracy.

The accrual of income and expense is permitted when the all-events test has been met. This test requires: (1) fixing of a right to income or liability to pay; (2) the availability of the reasonable accurate determination of such income or liability.

The all-events test requires the right to income or liability be fixed, and the amount of such income or liability be determined with reasonable accuracy. However, the test does not demand that the amount of income or liability be known absolutely, only that a taxpayer has at his disposal the information necessary to compute the amount with reasonable accuracy. The all-events test is satisfied where computation remains uncertain, if its basis is unchangeable; the test is satisfied where a computation may be unknown, but is not as much as unknowable, within the taxable year. "The amount of liability does not have to be determined exactly; it must be determined with reasonable accuracy." (Commissioner of Internal Revenue vs. Isabela Cultural Corporation, G.R. No. 172231, February 12, 2007)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) income has been received, either actually or constructively.

In 2010, Juliet Ulbod earned P500,000.00 as income from her beauty parlor and received P250,000.00 as Christmas gift from her spinster aunt. She had no other receipts for the year. - (B) P500,000.00.

In 2010, Mr. Platon sent his sister Helen $1 ,000 via a telegraphic transfer through the Bank of PI. The bank's remittance clerk made a mistake and credited Helen with $1,000,000 which she promptly withdrew. The bank demanded the return of the mistakenly credited excess, but Helen refused. The BIR entered the picture and investigated Helen.

Would the BIR be correct if it determines that Helen earned taxable income under these facts? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) No, she had no income because she had no right to the mistakenly credited funds.
- (B) Yes, income is income regardless of the source.
- (C) No, it was not her fault that the funds in excess of $1,000 were credited to her.
- (D) No, the funds in excess of $1,000 were in effect donated to her.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Yes, income is income regardless of the source.

Section 32 of the NIRC defines gross income as all income derived from whatever source. Consequently, the flow of wealth, without any distinction as to the lawfulness of its source, is subject to income tax. In other words, the phrase “income from whatever source” discloses a legislative policy to include all income not expressly exempted within the class of taxable income under the law.

Mr. Gipit borrowed from Mr. Maunawain P100,000.00, payable in five (5) equal monthly installments. Before the first installment became due, Mr. Gipit rendered general cleaning services in the entire office building of Mr. Maunawain, and as compensation therefor, Mr. Maunawain cancelled the indebtedness of Mr. Gipit up to the amount of P75,000.00. Mr. Gipit claims that the cancellation of his indebtedness cannot be considered as gain on his part which must be subject to income tax, because according to him, he did not actually receive payment from Mr. Maunawain for the general cleaning services. Is Mr. Gipit correct? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. Section 50 of Rev. Regs. No. 2, otherwise known as Income Tax Regulations, provides that if a debtor performs services for a creditor who cancels the debt in consideration for such services, the debtor realizes income to that amount as compensation for his services. In the given problem, the cancellation of Mr. Gipit's indebtedness up to the amount of Php 75,000.00 gave rise to compensation income subject to income tax, since Mr. Maunawain condoned such amount as consideration for the general cleaning services rendered by Mr. Gipit.

PRT Corp. purchased a residential house and lot with a swimming pool in an upscale subdivision and required the company president to stay there without paying rent; it reasoned out that the company president must maintain a certain image and be able to entertain guests at the house to promote the company's business. The company president declared that because they are childless, he and his wife could very well live in a smaller house.

Was there a taxable fringe benefit? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) There was no taxable fringe benefit since it was for the convenience of the employer and was necessary for its business.
- (B) There was a taxable fringe benefit since the stay at the house was for free.
- (C) There was a taxable fringe benefit because the house was very luxurious.
- (D) There was no taxable fringe benefit because the company president was only required to stay there and did not demand free housing.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) There was a taxable fringe benefit since the stay at the house was for free.

First, the company president is not a rank-and-file employee. Thus, the housing benefit is subject to fringe benefits tax pursuant to Section 33 of the NIRC and Section 2.33 (A) of the RR No. 03-98. Although the housing benefit to the President may be for the convenience of the employer (PRT Corp.) or necessary to its business, still, it also inured to the benefit of the President as his stay therein is for free. RR No. 03-98 also provides for the guidelines and valuation of fringe benefits for purposes of computing the portion which shall be subject to fringe benefits tax in cases where the fringe benefits entail joint benefits to the employer and employee.

Thus, there was a taxable fringe benefit.

In 2006, Mr. Vicente Tagle, a retiree, bought 10,000 CDA shares that are unlisted in the local stock exchange for P10 per share. In 2010, the said shares had a book value per share of P60 per share. In view of a car accident in 2010, Mr. Vicente Tagle had to sell his CDA shares but he could sell the same only for P50 per share. The sale is subject to tax as follows: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) 5%/10% capital gains tax on the capital gain from sale of P40 per share (P50 selling price less P10 cost);
- b) 5%/10% capital gains tax on the capital gain of P50 per share, arrived at by deducting the cost (P10 per share) from the book value (P60 per share);
- c) 5%/10% capital gains tax on the capital gain from sale of P40 per share (P50 selling price less P10 cost) plus donor's tax on the excess of the fair market value of the shares over the consideration;
- d) Graduated income tax rates of 5% to 32% on the net taxable income from the sale of the shares.

(9) Sale of principal residence

In 2000, Mr. Belen bought a residential house and lot for ₱1,000,000. He used the property as his and his family's principal residence. It is now year 2013 and he is thinking of selling the property to buy a new one. He seeks your advice on how much income tax he would pay if he sells the property. The total zonal value of the property is ₱5,000,000 and the fair market value per the tax declaration is ₱2,500,000. He intends to sell it for ₱6,000,000.

What material considerations will you take into account in computing the income tax? Please explain the legal relevance of each of these considerations. (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

In computing the capital gains tax, a final tax of six percent (6%) based on the gross selling price or current fair market value, whichever is higher, shall be imposed. In this case, the basis of the tax is ₱6,000,000.00, the gross selling price, being higher than ₱2,500,000.00, the fair market value of the residential house.

Nevertheless, if within thirty (30) days from the date of sale or disposition, Mr. Belen notifies the Commissioner that he intends to utilize the whole ₱6,000,000.00 in acquiring a new house within eighteen (18) calendar months from the sale, the gross selling price shall be exempt from the capital gains tax.

If Mr. Belen does not utilize the whole ₱6,000,000.00 in acquiring a new residence under the conditions above, the portion of the gain presumed to have been realized from the sale or disposition shall be subject to capital gains tax. For this purpose, ₱6,000,000.00 shall be multiplied by a fraction which the unutilized amount bears to the gross selling price in order to determine the taxable portion and the 6% capital gains tax shall be imposed thereon under Section 24(D) of the NIRC.

Mr. H decided to sell the house and lot wherein he and his family have lived for the past 10 years, hoping to buy and move to a new house and lot closer to his children's school. Concerned about the capital gains tax that will be due on the sale of their house, Mr. H approaches you as a friend for advice if it is possible for the sale of their house to be exempted from capital gains tax and the conditions they must comply with to avail themselves of said exemption. How will you respond? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Mr. H may avail the exemption from capital gains tax on sale of principal residence by natural persons. Under the law, the following are the requisites: (1) proceeds of the sale of the principal residence have been fully utilized in acquiring or constructing new principal residence within eighteen (18) calendar months from the date of sale or disposition; (2) The historical cost or adjusted basis of the real property sold or disposed will be carried over to the new principal residence built or acquired; (3) The Commissioner has been duly notified, through a prescribed return, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale or disposition of the person's intention to avail of the tax exemption; and (4) Exemption was availed only once every ten (10) years.

- a) Subject to the 30% income tax based on its net taxable income;
- b) Subject to the 20% final withholding tax;
- c) Subject to the 7.5% final withholding tax;

- (2) Stock dividend
- (3) Property dividend
- (4) Liquidating dividend

ABC Corp. was dissolved and liquidating dividends were declared and paid to the stockholders.

What tax consequence follows? (1%) (2013 Bar Question)

- (A) ABC Corp. should deduct a final tax of 10% from the dividends.
- (B) The stockholders should declare their gain from their investment and pay income tax at the ordinary rates.
- (C) The dividends are exempt from tax.
- (D) ABC Corp. should withhold a 10% creditable tax.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) The dividends are exempt from tax.

Liquidating dividends are not income and are thus not subject to income tax.

In Wise & Co., Inc. v. Meer (G.R. No. 48231, June 30, 1947), the Supreme Court defined liquidating dividends as the dissolving corporation's payments to the stockholders for their surrender and relinquishment of interest in the dissolving corporation. They are generally a return of capital. Liquidating dividends are unlike cash and property dividends which are portions of corporate profits that are set aside for distribution to the stockholders in proportion to their subscription to the capital stock of the corporation.⁵

MGC Corp. secured an income tax holiday for 5 years as a pioneer industry. On the fourth year of the tax holiday, MGC Corp. declared and paid cash dividends to its stockholders, all of whom are individuals.

Are the dividends taxable? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The dividends are taxable; the tax exemption of MGC Corp. does not extend to its stockholders.
- (B) The dividends are tax exempt because of MGC Corp.'s income tax holiday.
- (C) The dividends are taxable if they exceed 50% of MGC Corp.'s retained earnings.
- (D) The dividends are exempt if paid before the end of MGC Corp.'s fiscal year.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) The dividends are taxable; the tax exemption of MGC Corp. does not extend to its stockholders.

MGC Corp. and its stockholders are separate tax entities under the NIRC. Consequently, MGC Corp.'s tax exemption does not extend to its stockholders.

Under the NIRC, stockholders who receive dividends from a domestic corporation are subject to the following scheduler income tax rates: 10% for Filipino citizens and individual resident aliens⁶; 20% for non-resident aliens engaged in trade or business⁷; and 15% for non-resident foreign corporations⁸. Thus, the stockholder's claim for the tax exemption is unmeritorious.

Based on the destination principle, goods and services are taxed only in the country where they are consumed. Here, the services rendered to the officials of EEE are within the Philippines. Hence, DDD Corp. is subject to VAT.

Ms. C, a resident citizen, bought ready-to-wear goods from Ms. B, a nonresident citizen.

b) If Ms. B is an alien individual and the goods were produced in her factory in China, is Ms. B's income from the sale of the goods to Ms. C taxable in the Philippines? Explain.
(2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. Yes, the income of Ms. B from the sale of ready-to-wear goods to Ms. C is taxable. A nonresident citizen is taxable only on income derived from sources within the Philippines. In line with the source rule of income taxation, since the goods are produced and sold within the Philippines, Ms. B's Philippine-sourced income is taxable in the Philippines.

b. Yes, but only a proportionate part of the income. Gains, profits and income from the sale of personal property produced by the taxpayer without and sold within the Philippines, shall be treated as derived partly from sources within and partly without the Philippines.

- a) Is the prize money paid to and received by Mr. A in the US taxable in the Philippines? Why?
- b) May Mr. A's prize money qualify as an exclusion from his gross income? Why?
- c) The US already imposed and withheld income taxes from Mr. A's prize money. How may Mr. A use or apply the income taxes he paid on his prize money to the US when he computes his income tax liability in the Philippines for 2013? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. Yes. Under the Tax Code, the income within and without of a resident citizen is taxable. Since Mr. A is a resident Filipino citizen, his income worldwide is taxable in the Philippines.

b. No. Under the law, all prizes and awards granted to athletes in local and international sports competitions whether held in the Philippines or abroad and sanctioned by their national sports association are excluded from gross income. However, in this case, there is no showing that the boxing match was sanctioned by the Philippine National Sports Commission. Therefore, the prize money is not excluded.

A wants to file a claim for casualty loss. Explain the legal basis of your tax advice. (2010 Bar Question)

Dr. Taimtim is an alumnus of the College of Medicine of Universal University (UU), a privately-owned center for learning which grants yearly dividends to its stockholders.

UU has a famous chapel located within the campus where the old folks used to say that anyone who wanted to pass the medical board examinations should offer a dozen roses on all the Sundays of October. This was what Dr. Taimtim did when he was still reviewing for the board examinations. In his case, the folk saying proved to be true because he is now a successful cardiologist. Wanting to give back to the chapel and help defray the costs of its maintenance, Dr. Taimtim donated P50,000.00 to the caretakers of the chapel which was evidenced by an acknowledgment receipt.

In computing his net taxable income, can Dr. Taimtim use his donation to the chapel as an allowable deduction from his gross income under the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC)?

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. the donation is not deductible. The chapel is owned by a privately-owned university hence, the donation for the maintenance of the chapel is a donation to the university. The donation to be deductible must comply with the requirement that the net income of the done must not inure to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual. In the instant case, the university is granting yearly dividends to its stock holders which is a clear violation of the law appertaining to the so-called “private inurement doctrine” thereby making the donation non-deductible (Section 34(H)(1), NIRC).

However, to Dr. K's dismay, only P320,000.00 of his expenses were duly covered by receipts. What are the options available for Dr. K so he could maximize the deductions from his gross income? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

What are de minimis benefits and how are these taxed? Give three (3) examples of de minimis benefits. (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

De minimis benefits are facilities, and privileges furnished or offered by an employer to his employees, which are not considered as compensation subject to income tax and consequently to withholding tax, if such facilities or privileges are of relatively small value and are offered or furnished by the employer merely as means of promoting the health, goodwill, contentment, or efficiency of his employees.

The excess over the de minimis limit prescribed shall be considered, along with the “other benefits” under Section 32(B)(7)(e)(iv), NIRC, in determining whether or not the P82,000 threshold has been exceeded. Any excess over the de minimis ceiling may be exempt if it is covered by the unused portion of the P82,000.00 non-taxable “other benefits”. Otherwise, any amount in excess of the P82,000.00 threshold becomes subject to tax.

The following shall be considered as “de minimis” benefits:

1. Monetized unused vacation leave credits of private employees not exceeding 10 days during the year;
2. Monetized unused vacation and sick leave credits paid to government officials and employees, regardless of the number of days;

(B) Is he entitled to additional exemptions? If so, how much? (1%)

(C) What is the effect of the taxes withheld from his salaries on his taxable income? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) Yes. The law allows a basic personal exemption of Php 50,000.00 for each individual taxpayer (Section 35(A), NIRC).

(B) No. While his parents and minor sibling are living with and dependent upon him for financial support, they are not qualified dependents for purposes of additional exemptions. The term “dependent” for purposes of the additional personal exemption would include only legitimate, illegitimate, or legally adopted children (Section 35(B), NIRC).

(C) The taxes withheld from his salaries will not affect his taxable income because they are not allowed as tax deductions but as tax credits. Tax deductions reduce taxable income while tax credits reduce the tax liability (Central Drug Corporation v. CIR).

What were the personal exemptions/deductions which Mr. E and Ms. F could claim in the following taxable years: (2015 Bar Question)

b) For 2011

c) For 2013

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. Both Mr. E and Ms. F can claim for personal exemption up to P50,000.00.

b. Either Mr. E or Ms. F can claim for additional exemption of P25,000.00 each for their children. This is in addition to the personal exemption of P50,000.00 which they can respectively claim. According to the Tax Code, only one of the spouses can claim for additional exemption for every dependent.

c. Mr. E and Ms. F can claim for personal exemptions, respectively. In addition, any one of them, exclusively, can claim for the additional exemptions in relation to their four dependents amounting to P25,000.00 each. ABC, a domestic corporation, entered into a software license agreement with XYZ, a non-resident foreign corporation based in the U.S. Under the agreement which the parties forged in the U.S., XYZ granted ABC the right to use a computer system program and to avail of technical know-how relative to such program. In consideration for such rights, ABC agreed to pay 5% of the revenues it receives from customers who will use and apply the program in the Philippines.

Discuss the tax implication of the transaction. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The amount payable under the agreement is in the nature of a royalty. The term royalty is broad enough to include compensation for the use of an intellectual property and supply of technical know-how as a means of enabling the application or enjoyment of any such property or right. The royalties paid to the non-resident US Corporation, equivalent to 5% of the revenues derived by ABC for the use of the program in the Philippines, is subject to a 30% final withholding tax, unless a lower tax rate is prescribed under an existing tax treaty.

Prior to the VAT law, sales of cars were subject to a sales tax but the tax applied only to the original or the first sale; the second and subsequent sales were not subject to tax.

Deltoid Motors, Inc. (Deltoid) hit on the idea of setting up a wholly-owned subsidiary, Gonmad Motors, Inc. (Gonmad), and of selling its assembled cars to Gonmad at a low price so it would pay a lower tax on the first sale. Gonmad would then sell the cars to the public at a higher price without paying any sales tax on this subsequent sale.

Characterize the arrangement. (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The plan is a legitimate exercise of tax planning and merely takes advantage of a loophole in the law.
- (B) The plan is legal because the government collects taxes anyway.
- (C) The plan is improper; the veil of corporate fiction can be pierced so that the second sale will be considered the taxable sale.
- (D) The government must respect Gonmad's separate juridical personality and Deltoid's taxable sale to it.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) The plan is improper; the veil of corporate fiction can be pierced so that the second sale will be considered the taxable sale.

The given problem is similar to the case of Commissioner of Internal Revenue v. Norton and Harrison Company (G.R. No. L-17618, August 31, 1964). The Supreme Court held that “a taxpayer may gain advantage of doing business thru a corporation if he pleases, but the revenue officers in proper cases, may disregard the separate corporate entity where it serves but as a shield for tax evasion and treat the person who actually may take benefits of the transactions as the person accordingly taxable.

To allow a taxpayer to deny tax liability on the ground that the sales were made through another and distinct corporation when it is proved that the latter is virtually owned by the former or that they are practically one and the same is to sanction a circumvention of our tax laws.”

KKK Corp. secured its Certificate of Incorporation from the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 3, 2013. It commenced business operations on August 12, 2013. In April 2014, Ms. J, an employee of KKK Corp. in charge of preparing the annual income tax return of the corporation for 2013, got confused on whether she should prepare payment for the regular corporate income tax or the minimum corporate income tax.

- a) As Ms. J's supervisor, what will be your advice?
- b) What are the distinctions between regular corporate income tax and minimum corporate income tax? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. As Ms. J's supervisor, I will advise that KKK Corp. should prepare payment for the regular corporate income tax. Under the Tax Code, Minimum Corporate Income Tax (MCIT) is applicable beginning on the fourth taxable year following the commencement of operation. Thus, in this case, KKK Corp. will only apply MCIT starting taxable year 2017.

b. Distinction as to taxpayer: Regular corporate income tax applies to all corporate taxpayers; while minimum corporate income tax applies to domestic corporations and resident foreign corporations.

Distinction as to rate: Regular income tax is 30%; while minimum corporate income tax is 2%.

Distinction as to tax base: Regular corporate income tax is based on the net taxable income, except nonresident foreign corporation which is based on gross income; while minimum corporate income tax is based on gross income.

Distinction as to period of applicability: Regular corporate income tax is applicable once the corporation commenced its operation, while MCIT is applicable beginning the fourth taxable year following the commencement of operation.

Freezy Corporation, a domestic corporation engaged in the manufacture and sale of ice cream, made payments to an officer of Frosty Corporation, a competitor in the ice cream business, in exchange for said officer's revelation of Frosty Corporation's trade secrets.

May Freezy Corporation claim the payment to the officer as deduction from its gross income? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. The payments made in exchange for the revelation of a competitors trade secrets is considered an expense which is against law, morals, good customs, or public policy, which is not deductible (3M Philippines, Inc. v. CIR, G.R. No. 82833, September 26, 1988). Also, the law will not allow the deduction of bribes, kickback, and other similar payments. Applying the principle of ejusdem generis, payment made by Freezy Corporation would fall under "other similar payments" which are not allowed as deduction from gross income (Section 34(A)(1)(c), NIRC).

16. Improperly accumulated earnings of corporations

What is the "immediacy test"? Explain briefly. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

This test is applied to determine whether the accumulation of after tax profits by a domestic or resident foreign corporation is really for the reasonable needs of the business. Under this test, the reasonable needs of the business are construed to mean the immediate needs. The corporation should be able to prove an immediate need for the accumulation of earnings and profits, or the direct correlation of anticipated needs to such accumulation of profits to justify the said accumulation.

True or False.

The capitalization rules may be resorted to by the BIR in order to compel corporate taxpayers to declare dividends to their stockholders regularly. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER: True. [Sec. 244, NIRC; Rev. Regulation No. 2-2001 implementing Sec. 29, NIRC)

In 2009, Spratz, Inc.'s net profit before tax was P35 million while its operating expenses was P31 million. (D) No, because the taxpayer is not shown to be a publicly-listed corporation, a bank, or an insurance company.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Yes, since the accumulation is not reasonably necessary for the immediate needs of the business.

17. Exemption from tax on corporations

18. Taxation of partnerships

19. Taxation of general professional partnerships

Atty. Gambino is a partner in a general professional partnership. The partnership computes its gross revenues, claims deductions allowed under the Tax Code, and distributes the net income to the partners, including Atty. Gambino, in accordance with its articles of partnership.

In filing his own income tax return, Atty. Gambino claimed deductions that the partnership did not claim, such as purchase of law books, entertainment expenses, car insurance and car depreciation. The BIR disallowed the deductions.

Was the BIR correct? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The BIR is wrong in disallowing the deductions.

Under Section 26 of the NIRC, a general professional partnership is exempt from income tax and, thus, cannot claim deductions. However, partners in a general professional partnership are liable, in their separate and individual capacities, for the payment of income tax computed on their distributive share of the general professional partnership's profits. Consequently, these partners may claim deductions under Section 34 of the NIRC from their gross income.

In the given problem, Atty. Gambino's expenses for the purchase of law books and the availing of car insurance are allowable deductions because they are ordinary and necessary expenses in the exercise of his profession. Law books are directly attributable to Atty. Gambino's development and conduct as a lawyer pursuant to Section 34(A)(1)(a) of the NIRC. Meanwhile, car insurance is an ordinary and necessary expense in the purchase of a car. It should be noted that cars are ordinarily used by lawyers who travel from one place to another for purposes of attending hearings, meeting clients, signing agreements, and the like. For these same reasons, a reasonable allowance for the car's depreciation is deductible under Section (34)(F)(1) of the NIRC. A reasonable allowance for entertainment or representation expenses can also be claimed as deduction from gross income, as these expenses are directly connected or in the furtherance of the conduct of Atty. Gambino's profession as a lawyer, applying Section (34)(A)(1)(a)(iv) of the NIRC and Revenue Regulation No. 10-2002.

XYZ Law Offices, a law partnership in the Philippines and a VAT-registered taxpayer, received a query by e-mail from Gainsburg Corporation, a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware, but the e-mail came from California where Gainsburg has an office. Gainsburg has no office in the Philippines and does no business in the Philippines.

XYZ Law Offices rendered its opinion on the query and billed Gainsburg US$1,000 for the opinion. Gainsburg remitted its payment through Citibank which converted the remitted US$1,000 to pesos and deposited the converted amount in the XYZ Law Offices account.

What are the tax implications of the payment to XYZ Law Offices in terms of VAT and income taxes? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Preliminarily, XYZ Law Offices is a general professional partnership which is defined under Sec. 22(B) of the NIRC as a partnership formed by persons for the sole purpose of exercising their common profession, no part of the income of which is derived from engaging in any trade or business. On the other hand, Gainsburg is considered as a nonresident foreign corporation under Sec. 22(I) of the NIRC. The tax implications are as follows:

As to VAT: XYZ Law Offices, as a general professional partnership, is subject to VAT as it rendered services to Gainsburg. Pursuant to Sec. 105 of the NIRC, any person who, in the course of business, renders services shall be subject to VAT.

In the given problem, the XYZ Law Offices rendered services to a nonresident person not engaged in business and which is outside the Philippines. The consideration for the services was paid in an acceptable foreign currency. Therefore, the transaction in the given problem is subject to zero percent (0%) rate of VAT provided under Sec. 108 (B)(2) of the NIRC.

As to income tax: XYZ Law Office is not subject thereto because it is a general professional partnership. Sec. 26 of the NIRC expressly provides that a general professional partnership shall not be subject to the income tax. Persons engaging in business as partners in a general professional partnership shall be liable for income tax only in their separate and individual capacities.

A, B, and C, all lawyers, formed a partnership called ABC Law Firm so that they can practice their profession as lawyers. For the year 2012, ABC Law Firm received earnings and paid expenses, among which are as follows:

Earnings:

- (1) Professional/legal fees from various clients
- (2) Cash prize received from a religious society in recognition of the exemplary service of ABC Law Firm
- (3) Gains derived from sale of excess computers and laptops

Payments:

- (1) Salaries of office staff
- (2) Rentals for office space
- (3) Representation expenses incurred in meetings with clients
- (A) What are the items in the above mentioned earnings which should be included in the computation of ABC Law Firm's gross income? Explain.
- (B) What are the items in the above-mentioned payments which may be considered as deductions from the gross income of ABC Law Firm? Explain.
- (C) If ABC Law Firm earns net income in 2012, what, if any, is the tax consequence on the part of ABC Law Firm insofar as the payment of income tax is concerned? What, if any, is the tax consequence on the part of A, B, and C as individual partners, insofar as the payment of income tax is concerned? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) The three (3) items of earnings should be included in the computation of ABC Law Firm's gross income. The professional/legal fees from various clients is included as part of gross income being in the nature of compensation for services (Section 32(A)(1), NIRC). The cash prize from a religious society in recognition of its exemplary services is also included there being no law providing for its exclusion. This is not a prize in recognition of any of the achievements enumerated under the law hence, should form part of gross income (Section 32(B)(7)(c), NIRC). The gains from sale of excess computers and laptops should also be included as part of the firm's gross income because the term gross income specifically includes gains derived from dealings in property (Section 32(A)(3), NIRC).

(B) The law firm being formed as general professional partnership is entitled to the same deductions allowed to corporation (Section 26, NIRC). Hence, the three (3) items of deductions mentioned in the problem are all deductible, they being in the nature of ordinary and necessary expenses incurred in the practice of profession (Section 34(A), NIRC). However, the amount deductible for representation expenses incurred by a taxpayer engaged in sale of services, including a law firm, is subject to a ceiling of 1% of net revenue. (RR No. 10-2002)

(C) The net income having been earned by the law firm which is formed and qualifies as a general professional partnership, is not subject to income tax because the earner is devoid of any income tax personality. Each partner shall report as gross income his distributive shares, actuality or constructively received, in the net income of the partnership. The partnership is merely treated for income tax purposes as a pass-through entity so that its net income is not taxable at the level of the partnership but said net income should be attributed to the partners, whether or not distributed to them, and they are liable to pay the income tax based on their respective taxable income as individual taxpayers (Section 26, NIRC).

- c) Non-resident alien not engaged in trade or business
- d) Domestic corporation

e. A final withholding tax of fifteen percent (15%) is imposed on the amount of cash dividends received from BBB, Inc., subject to the tax sparing credit provision (Section 28(B)(5)(b), NIRC). The application of the tax sparing credit is that the country-domicile of the recipient corporation allows a credit against the tax due from the non-resident foreign corporation. Otherwise, the applicable tax rate is thirty percent (30%) of the gross income received during each taxable year from all sources within the Philippines.

Don Sebastian, single but head of the family, Filipino, and resident of Pasig City, died intestate on November 15, 2009. He left the following properties and interests:

House and lot (family home) in Pasig	P 800,000
Vacation house and lot in Florida, USA	1,500,000
Agricultural land in Naic, Cavite which he inherited from his father	2,000,000
Car which is being used by his brother in Cavite	500,000
Proceeds of life insurance where he named his estate as irrevocable beneficiary	1,000,000
Household furnitures and appliances	1,000,000
Claims against a cousin who has assets of P10,000 and liabilities of P100,000	100,000
Shares of stock in ABC Corp, a domestic enterprise	100,000
The expenses and charges on the estate are as follows:
Funeral Expenses	P 250,000
Legal fees for the settlement of the estate	500,000
Medical expenses of last illness	600,000
Claims against the estate	300,000

The compulsory heirs of Don Sebastian approach you and seek your assistance in the settlement of his estate for which they have agreed to the above-stated professional fees. Specifically, they request you to explain and discuss with them the following questions. You oblige:

- a. What are the properties and interests that should be included in the computation of the gross estate of the decedent? Explain. (2.5%)
- b. What is the net taxable estate of the decedent? Explain. (2.5%)
- c. When is the due date for filing and payment of the applicable tax return and tax? Are these dates extendible? If so, under what conditions or requirements? (2.5%)
- d. If X, one of the compulsory heirs, renounces his share in the inheritance in favor of the other co-heirs, is there any tax implication of X's renunciation? What about the other coheirs? (2.5%) (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- a. All the properties and interest enumerated in the problem should be included in the gross estate of the decedent. The decedent is a citizen of the Philippines and the law requires that the composition in the gross estate of the decedent shall include all kinds of properties wherever situated and to the extent of the interest that he has thereon at the time of his death.
- b. The net taxable estate of the decedent is Php 3.7M. From the gross estate of Php 7.0M, the following deductions are allowed: (1) Funeral expenses of Php 200K which is the maximum allowed by law, (2) legal fees amounting to Php 500K; (3) medical expenses not to exceed Php 500K incurred one year prior to death and substantiated with receipts; (4) claims against the estate of Php 300K; (5) family home equivalent to its FMV (not to exceed Php 1.0M) of Php 800K and (6) standard deduction of Php 1.0M or a total allowable deduction of Php 3.3M.

The claim against the cousin amounting to Php 100K although includible in the gross estate cannot be claimed as a deduction because the debtor is not yet declared insolvent. Likewise, the inherited property cannot give rise to a vanishing deduction for want of sufficient factual basis.

- c. The tax return and the payment of the estate tax are both due within six (6) months from death. The filing of the return is extendible for a maximum period of 30 days under meritorious cases as maybe determined by the CIR. Whereas, the payment of the estate tax may also be extended when the CIR finds that the payment thereof would impose undue hardship upon the estate or any of the heirs. The period of extension to pay shall not exceed 5 years from death if the estate is settled through the courts or shall not exceed 2 years from death if settled extra-judicially. The CIR may require the executor or administrator or the beneficiary to furnish a bond in an amount not more than double the amount of the estate tax due.
- d. If the renunciation is a general renunciation (in favor of co-heirs in accordance with their respective interest in the inheritance), the law on accretion applies and the property waived is considered to pass through the other co-heirs by inheritance; hence, it has no tax implication. There is no donation of property because the property had never become the property of the donor. Such being the case, the renunciation is not subject to donor's tax.

If it is not a general renunciation in favor of the other co-heirs, the heir renouncing his right is considered to have made a donation and the renunciation is subject to donor's tax. In both cases, however, the renunciation has no tax implication to the other co-heirs.

In the settlement of the estate of Mr. Barbera who died intestate, his wife renounced her inheritance and her share of the conjugal property in favor of their children. The BIR determined that there was a taxable gift and thus assessed Mrs. Barbera as a donor.

Was the BIR correct? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The BIR is not correct in imposing donor's tax on the renounced inheritance of Mrs. Barbera from Mr. Barbera. According to Section 11 of the RR No. 2-2003: "General renunciation by an heir, including the surviving spouse, of his/her share in the hereditary estate left by the decedent is not subject to donor's tax, unless specifically and categorically done in favor of identified heir/s to the exclusion or disadvantage of other co-heirs in the hereditary estate."

On the other hand, the BIR is correct in imposing donor's tax on the renounced conjugal share of Mrs. Barbera. This is because Section 11 of RR No. 2-2003 provides that "renunciation by the surviving spouse of his/her share in the conjugal partnership or absolute community after the dissolution of the marriage in favor of the heirs of the deceased spouse or any other person/s is subject to donor's tax." This proceeds from the rule that the share of the conjugal property is the share of the surviving spouse. Thus, the surviving spouse is effectively donating property when he or she makes a renunciation.

Tong Siok, a Chinese billionaire and a Canadian resident, died and left assets in China valued at P80 billion and in the Philippines assets valued at P20 billion. For Philippine estate tax purposes the allowable deductions for expenses, losses, indebtedness, and taxes, property previously taxed, transfers for public use, and the share of his surviving spouse in their conjugal partnership amounted to P15 billion. Tong's gross estate for Philippine estate tax purposes is: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) P20 billion.
- (B) P5 billion.
- (C) P100 billion.
- (D) P85 billion.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) P20 billion

Section 85, NIRC.

Mr. Mayuga donated his residential house and lot to his son and duly paid the donor's tax. In the Deed of Donation, Mr. Mayuga expressly reserved for himself the usufruct over the property for as long as he lived.

Describe the donated property from the taxation perspective. (1%) (2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The property will form part of Mr. Mayuga's gross estate when he dies.
- (B) The property will not form part of Mr. Mayuga's gross estate when he dies because he paid the donor's tax.

(C) The property will form part of Mr. Mayuga's gross estate because he died soon after the donation.

(D) The property will not form part of Mr. Mayuga's gross estate because it is no longer his.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) The property will form part of Mr. Mayuga's gross estate when he dies.

Applying Section 85 (B)⁹ of the NIRC, the donated property will still form part of the gross estate of the decedent when in the deed of donation, the donor “has retained for his life or for any period which does not in fact end before his death 91) the possession or enjoyment of, or the right to the income from the property.”

Therefore, the property will form part of Mr. Mayuga’s gross estate when he dies because he donated the property in contemplation of death.

Mr. Agustin, 75 years old and suffering from an incurable disease, decided to sell for valuable and sufficient consideration a house and lot to his son. He died one year later.

In the settlement of Mr. Agustin's estate, the BIR argued that the house and lot were transferred in contemplation of death and should therefore form part of the gross estate for estate tax purposes.

Is the BIR correct? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The BIR is not correct.

Pursuant to Section 85(B) of the NIRC, properties that are transferred in contemplation of death form part of the gross estate of the decedent. An exception to this is a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money.

Therefore, the house and lot which Mr. Agustin sold to his son for a valuable and sufficient consideration should not be considered as forming part of Mr. Agustin’s gross estate.

Mr. X, a Filipino residing in Alabama, U.S.A., died on January 2, 2013 after undergoing a major heart surgery. He left behind to his wife and two (2) kids several properties, to wit: (4%)

⁹Section 85(B) Transfer in Contemplation of Death. - To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death, or of which he has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, under which he has retained for his life or for any period which does not in fact end before his death (1) the possession or enjoyment of, or the right to the income from the property, or (2) the right, either alone or in conjunction with any person, to designate the person who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom; except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

- (A) What are the items that must be considered as part of the gross estate income of Mr. X?
- (B) What are the items that may be considered as deductions from the gross estate? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) All the items of properties enumerated in the problem shall form part of the gross estate of Mr. X. The composition of the gross estate of a decedent who is a Filipino citizen shall include all of his properties, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated (Section 85, NIRC).

(B) All the items of expenses are deductible from his gross estate. However, the allowable amount of funeral expenses shall be 5% of the gross estate or actual , whichever is lower, but in no case shall the amount deductible go beyond Php 200,000.00. Likewise, the deductible medical expenses must be limited to those incurred within one year prior to his death but not to exceed Php 500,000.00 (Section 86, NIRC).

Section 85 & 86, NIRC.

During his lifetime, Mr. Sakitin obtained a loan amounting to P10 million from Bangko Uno for the purchase of a parcel of land located in Makati City, using such property as collateral for the loan. The loan was evidenced by a duly notarized promissory note. Subsequently, Mr. Sakitin died. At the time of his death, the unpaid balance of the loan amounted to P2 million. The heirs of Mr. Sakitin deducted the amount of P2 million from the gross estate, as part of the "Claims against the Estate." Such deduction was disallowed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) Examiner, claiming that the mortgaged property was not included in the computation of the gross estate. Do you agree with the BIR? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

Yes. Unpaid mortgages upon, or any indebtedness with respect to property are deductible from the gross estate only if the value of the decedent's interest in said property, undiminished by such mortgage or indebtedness, is included in the gross estate (Section 86(A)(1)(e)). In the instant case, the interest of the decedent in the property purchased from the loan where the said property was used as the collateral, was not included in the gross estate. Accordingly, the unpaid balance of the loan at the time of Mr. Sakitin's death is not deductible as "Claims against the Estate."

12. Exclusions from estate

IV. Donor's tax

1. Basic principles
2. Definition
3. Nature
4. Purpose or object
5. Requisites of valid donation
6. Transfers which may be constituted as donation
 - a) Sale/exchange/transfer of property for insufficient consideration
 - b) Condonation/remission of debt
7. Transfer for less than adequate and full consideration
8. Classification of donor
9. Determination of gross gift

Mr. L owned several parcels of land and he donated a parcel each to his two children. Mr. L acquired both parcels of land in 1975 for ₱200,000.00. At the time of donation, the fair market value of the two parcels of land, as determined by the CIR, was ₱12,300,000.00; while the fair market value of the same properties as shown in the schedule of values prepared by the City Assessors was ₱12,500,000.00. What is the proper valuation of Mr. L's gifts to his children for purposes of computing donor's tax? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The valuation of Mr. L's gift to his children is the fair market value (FMV) of the property at the time of donation. It is the higher of the FMV as determined by the Commissioner or the FMV as shown in the schedule of values fixed by the provincial or city assessors. In this case, for the purpose of computing donor's tax, the proper valuation is the value prepared by the City Assessors amounting to ₱12,500,000.00 because it is higher than the FMV determined by the CIR.

- d) Two (2) donations made by the spouses to Roberto are entitled to deduction from the gross gift as donation proper nuptias.

A non-stock, non-profit school always had cash flow problems, resulting in failure to recruit well-trained administrative personnel to effectively manage the school. In 2010, Don Leon donated P100 million pesos to the school, provided the money shall be used solely for paying the salaries, wages, and benefits of administrative personnel. - (B) Yes, because the donation is to be wholly used for administration purposes.
- (C) Yes, since he did not obtain the requisite NGO certification before he made the donation.
- (D) No, because the donation does not exceed 10% of his taxable income for 2010.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Yes, because the donation is to be wholly used for administration purposes.

- a) Maria Reyes is subject to donor's tax in 2011 because gross gift is P100,000.00;
- b) Maria Reyes is exempt from donor's tax in 2011 because gross gift is P100,000.00;
- c) Maria Reyes is exempt from donor's tax in 2011 only to the extent of P50,000.00;
- d) Maria Reyes is exempt from donor's tax in 2011 because the donee is minor.

Mr. De Sarapen is a candidate in the upcoming Senatorial elections. Mr. De Almacen, believing in the sincerity and ability of Mr. De Sarapen to introduce much needed reforms in the country, contributed P500,000.00 in cash to the campaign chest of Mr. De Sarapen. In addition, Mr. De Almacen purchased tarpaulins, t-shirts, umbrellas, caps and other campaign materials that he also donated to Mr. De Sarapen for use in his campaign. Is the contribution of cash and campaign materials subject to donor's tax? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

The answer must be qualified. Section 99(C) of the NIRC explicitly provides that any contribution in cash or in kind to any candidate, political party or coalition of parties for campaign purposes shall be governed by the Election Code, as amended. On the other hand, Section 13 of the Republic Act No. 7166 specifically states that any provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding, any contribution in cash or kind to any candidate or political party or coalition of parties for campaign purposes, duly reports to the Commission on Elections (COMELEC) shall not be subject to the payment of any gift tax.

Thus, if Mr. De Almacen reported his campaign contributions of Php 500,000.00 in cash, tarpaulins, t-shirts, umbrellas, caps, and other campaign materials to the COMELEC, then the BIR cannot impose donor's tax on such contributions. Conversely, if Mr. De Almacen failed to report these campaign contributions to the COMELEC, such contributions would be subject to donor's tax.

The spouses Jun and Elvira Sandoval purchased a piece of land for P5,000,000 and included their two (2) minor children as co-purchasers in the Deed of Absolute Sale. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue (CIR) ruled that there was an implied donation and assessed donors' taxes against the spouses.

Rule on the CIR's action. (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The CIR is wrong; a donation must be express.
- (B) The CIR is wrong; financial capacity is not a requirement for a valid sale.
- (C) The CIR is correct; the amount involved is huge and ultimately ends up with the children.
- (D) The CIR is correct; there was animus donandi since the children had no financial capacity to be co-purchasers.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) The CIR is correct; there was animus donandi since the children had no financial capacity to be co-purchasers.

The present case is similar to the case of Sps. Hordon H. Evono and Maribel C. Evono v. CIR, et al., [CTA EB No. 705, (CTA Case No. 7573), June 4, 2012]. The CTA held that the inclusion of the minor children's names in the transfer of the titles/properties shall be deemed a donation or gift from their parents. This is so because the minor children, at an early age, have no source of income. There is a clear animus donandi. Therefore, the imposition of donor's tax is in accordance with Section 98 of the NIRC.

(Note: Although the cited case was only decided by the CTA, it provides an authoritative insight on the answer to the given problem, considering that there is no exact applicable law and jurisprudence on the matter.)

Masarap Kumain, Inc. (MKI) is a Value-Added Tax (VAT)-registered company which has been engaged in the catering business for the past 10 years. It has invested a substantial portion of its capital on flat wares, table linens, plates, chairs, catering equipment, and delivery vans. MKI sold its first delivery van, already 10 years old and idle, to Magpapala Gravel and Sand Corp. (MGSC), a corporation engaged in the business of buying and selling gravel and sand. The selling price of the delivery van was way below its acquisition cost. Is the sale of the delivery van by MKI to MGSC subject to VAT? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

Yes. The sale of the delivery van by MKI to MGSC was incidental to its trade or business, and therefore subject to VAT. Pursuant to the case of Mindanao Geothermal Partnership II v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue (G.R. No. 193301, 194637, March 11, 2013), an isolated transaction may be considered a transaction incidental to the taxpayer's.

RR No. 10-2004; H. Tambunting Inc. v. CIR, G.R. No. 172394, October 13, 2010.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) issued Revenue Memorandum Circular (RMC) No. 65-2012 imposing Value-Added Tax (VAT) on association dues and membership fees collected by condominium corporations from its member condominium-unit owners. The RMC's validity is challenged before the Supreme Court (SC) by the condominium corporations.

The Solicitor General, counsel for BIR, claims that association dues, membership fees, and other assessment/charges collected by a condominium corporation are subject to VAT since they constitute income payments or compensation for the beneficial services it provides to its members and tenants.

On the other hand, the lawyer of the condominium corporations argues that such dues and fees are merely held in trust by the condominium corporations exclusively for their members and used solely for administrative expenses in implementing the condominium corporations' purposes. Accordingly, the condominium corporations do not actually render services for a fee subject to VAT.

Whose argument is correct? Decide. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

The argument of the condominium corporation is correct. The association dues should not be subject to VAT because the condominium corporation does not realize any gain or profit. They merely hold the fees in trust for administrative expenses. This, it does not form part of the gross income of the corporation, and consequently, is not subject to VAT. (RTC Resolution SCA No.12-1236 on RMC 65-2012, Petition for Declaratory Relief).

14. Zero-rated sale of services

- c. Sale of orchids by a flower shop which raises its flowers in Tagaytay. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- b. The sale of services is subject to VAT at zero percent (0%). This rate includes services rendered to a person engaged in business outside the Philippines and the consideration is paid in acceptable foreign currency duly accounted for by the BSP.

- c. The sale of orchids is subject to VAT at 12%. This is a sale of agricultural non-food product in its original state which is no longer one of the exempt transactions.

21. Refund or tax credit of excess input tax

- a) Who may claim for refund/apply for issuance of tax credit certificate
- b) Period to file claim/apply for issuance of tax credit certificate

Gangwam Corporation (GC) filed its quarterly tax returns for the calendar year 2012 as follows:

First quarter - April 25, 2012
Second quarter - July 23, 2012
Third quarter - October 25, 2012
Fourth quarter - January 27, 2013

On December 22, 2013, GC filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) an administrative claim for refund of its unutilized input Value-Added Tax (VAT) for the calendar year 2012. After several months of inaction by the BIR on its claim for refund, GC decided to elevate its claim directly to the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) on April 22, 2014.

In due time, the CTA denied the tax refund relative to the input VAT of GC for the first quarter of 2012, reasoning that the claim was filed beyond the two-year period prescribed under Section 112(A) of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC).

(A) Is the CTA correct? (3%)

(B) Assuming that GC filed its claim before the CTA on February 22, 2014, would your answer be the same? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) No. The CTA is not correct. The two-year period to file a claim for refund refers to the administrative claim and does not refer to the period within which to elevate the claim to the CTA. The filing of the administrative claim for refund was timely done because it is made within two years from the end of the quarter when the zero-rated transaction took place (Section 112 (A), NIRC). When GC decided to elevate its claim to the CTA on April 22, 2014, it was after the lapse of 120 days from the filing of the claim for refund with the BIR, hence, the appeal is seasonably filed. The rule on VAT refunds is two years to file the claim with the BIR, plus 120 for the Commissioner to act and inaction after 120 days is a deemed adverse decision on the claim, appealable to the CTA within thirty (30) days from the lapse of the 120-day period. (CIR v. Aichi Forging Company of Asia, Inc., G.R. No. 184823, October 6, 2010).

(B) Yes. The two-year prescriptive period to file a claim for refund refers to the administrative claim with the BIR and not the period to elevate the claim to the CTA. Hence, the CTA cannot deny the refund for reasons that the first quarter claim was filed beyond the two-year period prescribed by law. However, when the claim is made before the CTA on February 24, there is definitely no appealable decision as yet because the 120-day period for the Commissioner to act on the claim for refund has not yet lapsed. Hence, the act of the taxpayer in elevation the claim to the CTA is premature and the CTA has no jurisdiction to rule thereon. (CIR v. Aichi Forging Company of Asia, Inc., G.R. No. 184823, October 6, 2010).

For calendar year 2011, FFF, Inc., a VAT-registered corporation, reported unutilized excess input VAT in the amount of ₱1,000,000.00 attributable to its zero-rated sales. Hoping to impress his boss, Mr. G, the accountant of FFF, Inc., filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) on January 31, 2013 a claim for tax refund/credit of the ₱1,000,000.00 unutilized excess input VAT of FFF, Inc. for 2011. Not having received any communication from the BIR, Mr. G filed a Petition for Review with the CTA on March 15, 2013, praying for the tax refund/credit of the ₱1,000,000.00 unutilized excess input VAT of FFF, Inc. for 2011.

- a) Did the CTA acquire jurisdiction over the Petition of FFF, Inc.?
- b) Discuss the proper procedure and applicable time periods for administrative and judicial claims for refund/credit of unutilized excess input VAT. (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. The CTA has not acquired jurisdiction over the Petition of FFF, Inc. because the juridical claim has been prematurely filed on March 15, 2013. The Supreme Court ruled that the 30-day period after the expiration of the 120-day period fixed by law for the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to act on the claim for refund is jurisdictional and failure to comply would bar the appeal and deprive the CTA of its jurisdiction to entertain the appeal.

In this case, Mr. G filed the administrative claim on January 31, 2013. The petition for review should have been filed on June 30, 2013. Filing the judicial claim on March 15, 2013 is premature, thus the CTA did not acquire jurisdiction.

b. The administrative claim must be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (CIR) within the two-year prescriptive period. The proper reckoning period date for the two-year prescriptive period is the close of the taxable quarter when the relevant sales were made. However, as an exception, are claims applied only from June 8, 2007 to September 12, 2008, wherein the two-year prescriptive period for filing a claim for tax refund or credit of unutilized input VAT payments should be counted from the date of filing of the VAT return and payment of the tax.

The taxpayer can file a judicial claim in one of two ways: (1) file the judicial claim within thirty days after the Commissioner of Internal Revenue denies the claim within the 120-day period, or (2) file the judicial claim within 30 days from the expiration of the 120-day period if the Commissioner does not act within the 120-day period.

As a general rule, the 30-day period to appeal is both mandatory and jurisdictional. As an exception, premature filing is allowed only if filed between December 10, 2003 and October 5, 2010, when the BIR Ruling No. DA-489-03 was still in force.

a) Assessment

(i) Concept of assessment

Mr. Alvarez is in the retail business. He received a deficiency tax assessment from the BIR containing only the computation of the deficiency tax and the penalties, without any explanation of the factual and legal bases for the assessment.

Is the assessment valid? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The assessment is valid; all that Mr. Alvarez has to know is the amount of the tax.
- (B) The assessment is invalid; the law requires a statement of the facts and the law upon which the assessment is based.
- (C) The assessment is valid but Mr. Alvarez can still contest it.
- (D) The assessment is invalid because Mr. Alvarez has no way to determine if the computation is erroneous.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) The assessment is invalid; the law requires a statement of the facts and the law upon which the assessment is based.

Section 228 of the NIRC provides that a preliminary assessment notice shall inform the taxpayer in writing of the law and the facts on which the assessment is based as part of due process; otherwise, the assessment shall be void. In relation to this provision, Section 3 of RR No. 12-99 states that the preliminary assessment notice shall show in detail the facts and the law, rules and regulations, or jurisprudence on which the assessment is based. (e) Tax delinquency and tax deficiency

In January 2011, the BIR issued a ruling that Clemen's vodka imports were not subject to increased excise tax based on his claim that his net retail price was only P200 per 750 milliliter bottle. This ruling was applied to his imports for May, June, and July 2011. In September 2011, the BIR revoked its ruling and assessed him for deficiency taxes respecting his May, June and July 2011 vodka imports because it discovered that his net retail price for the vodka was P250 per bottle from January to September 2011. Does the retroactive application of the revocation violate Clemen's right to due process as a taxpayer? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Yes, since the presumption is that the BIR ascertained the facts before it made its ruling.
- (B) No, because he acted in bad faith when he claimed a lower net retail price than what he actually used.
- (C) No, since he could avail of remedies available for disputing the assessment.
- (D) Yes, since he had already acquired a vested right in the favorable BIR ruling.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) No, because he acted in bad faith when he claimed a lower net retail price than what he actually used.

Which among the following circumstances negates the prima facie presumption of correctness of a BIR assessment? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) The BIR assessment was seasonably protested within 30 days from receipt.
- (B) No preliminary assessment notice was issued prior to the assessment notice.
- (C) Proof that the assessment is utterly without foundation, arbitrary, and capricious.
- (D) The BIR did not include a formal letter of demand to pay the alleged deficiency.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) Proof that the assessment is utterly without foundation, arbitrary, and capricious.

KaTato owns a parcel of land in San Jose, Batangas declared for real property taxation, as agricultural. In 1990, he used the land for a poultry feed processing plant but continued to declare the property as agricultural. In March 2011, the local tax assessor discovered KaTato's change of use of his land and informed the local treasurer who demanded payment of deficiency real property taxes from 1990 to 2011. Has the action prescribed? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) No, the deficiency taxes may be collected within five years from when they fell due.
- (B) No. The deficiency taxes for the period 1990 up to 2011 may still be collected within 10 years from March 2011.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) No. The deficiency taxes for the period 1990 up to 2011 may still be collected within 10 years from March 2011.

(ii) Power of the Commissioner to make assessments and prescribe additional requirements for tax administration and enforcement

On October 15, 2005, ABC Corp. imported 1,000 kilos of steel ingots and paid customs duties and VAT to the Bureau of Customs on the importation. On February 17, 2009, the Bureau of Customs, citing provisions of the Tariff and Customs Code on post-audit, investigated and assessed ABC Corp. for deficiency customs duties and VAT.

Is the Bureau of Customs correct? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The Bureau of Customs was not correct.

As to the VAT: The Bureau of Customs has no authority to assess ABC Corp. as this falls under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR). Under Sec. 2 of the NIRC, the BIR's powers and duties include, among others, the assessment and collection of all national internal revenue taxes, fees and charges. VAT is a national internal revenue tax under Title IV of the NIRC.

Under Sec. 12 of the NIRC, the Commissioner of Customs and his subordinates are merely agents and deputies for collection, not assessment of national internal revenue taxes.

As to the deficiency customs duties found on post-audit: The Bureau of Customs was not correct in assessing deficiency customs duties. The facts show that the investigation and assessment on post-audit were made on February 17, 2009, which is more than three (3) years from October 15, 2005 which is the date of payment by ABC Corp.

Sec. 4 of Republic Act 9135¹⁰ amended Section 1603 of the Tariff and Customs Code of the Philippines. The provision states that when articles have been entered and passed free of duty or final adjustments of duties made, with subsequent delivery, such entry and passage free of duty or settlements of duties will, after the expiration of three (3) years from the date of the final payment of duties, in the absence of fraud or protest or compliance audit pursuant to the provisions of this Code, be final and conclusive upon all parties, unless the liquidation of the import entry was merely tentative. Administrative Order No. 5-2001 which implements RA 9135, confirms the above conclusion.

(a) Power of the Commissioner to obtain information, and to summon/examine, and take testimony of persons

In 2010, pursuant to a Letter of Authority (LA) issued by the Regional Director, Mr. Abcede was assessed deficiency income taxes by the BIR for the year 2009. He paid the deficiency. In 2011, Mr. Abcede received another LA for the same year 2009, this time from the National Investigation Division, on the ground that Mr. Abcede's 2009 return was fraudulent.

Mr. Abcede contested the LA on the ground that he can only be investigated once in a taxable year. Decide. (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Mr. Abcede's contention is not correct; he may be re-investigated because he filed a fraudulent tax return for 2009. Section 235 of the NIRC provides that the books and records of taxpayers may be examined and inspected only once in a taxable year, except in cases of fraud, irregularity or mistakes, as determined by the Commissioner.

(iii) When assessment is made

(a) Prescriptive period for assessment

(1) False, fraudulent, and non-filing of returns

(b) Suspension of running of statute of limitations

What is the effect of the execution by a taxpayer of a "waiver of the statute of limitations" on his defense of prescription? (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The waiver of the statute of limitation executed by a taxpayer is not a waiver of the right to invoke the defense of prescription. The waiver of the statute of limitation is merely an agreement in writing between the taxpayer and the CIR that the period to assess and collect taxes due is extended to a date certain. If prescription has already set in at the time of the execution of the waiver or if the said waiver is invalid, the taxpayer can still raise prescription as a defense.

Mia, a compensation income earner, filed her income tax return for the taxable year 2007 on March 30, 2008. On May 20, 2011, Mia received an assessment notice and letter of demand covering the taxable year 2007 but the postmark on the envelope shows April 10, 2011. Her return is not a false and fraudulent return. Can Mia raise the defense of prescription? (2011 Bar Question)

(A) No. The 3 year prescriptive period started to run on April 15, 2008, hence, it has not yet expired on April 10, 2011.

(B) Yes. The 3 year prescriptive period started to run on April 15, 2008, hence, it had already expired by May 20, 2011.

(C) No. The prescriptive period started to run on March 30, 2008, hence, the 3 year period expired on April 10, 2011.

(D) Yes. Since the 3-year prescriptive period started to run on March 30, 2008, it already expired by May 20, 2011.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) No. The 3 year prescriptive period started to run on April 15, 2008, hence, it has not yet expired on April 10, 2011.

There is prima facie evidence of a false or fraudulent return where the: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) tax return was amended after a notice of assessment was issued.
- (B) tax return was filed beyond the reglementary period.
- (C) taxpayer changed his address without notifying the BIR.
- (D) deductions claimed exceed by 30% the actual deductions.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) deductions claimed exceed by 30% the actual deductions.

The prescriptive period for the collection of the deficiency tax assessment will be tolled: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) If the taxpayer files a request for reconsideration with the Asst. Commissioner;
- b) If the taxpayer files a request for reinvestigation that is approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue;
- c) If the taxpayer changes his address in the Philippines that is communicated to the BIR official;
- d) If a warrant of levy is served upon the taxpayer's real property in Manila.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

b) If the taxpayer files a request for reinvestigation that is approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue

Section 223, NIRC; BPI v. Commissioner, G.R. No. 139736, October 17, 2005.

Taxpayer A was required by the BIR to sign and submit a waiver of the statute of limitations on the assessment period, to give the BIR more time to complete its investigation. The BIR accepted the waiver but failed to indicate the date of its acceptance.

What is the legal status of the waiver? (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The waiver is valid because the date of acceptance is immaterial and unimportant.
- (B) The waiver is invalid; the taxpayer cannot be required to waive the statute of limitations.
- (C) The waiver is invalid; the date of acceptance is crucial in counting the start of the period of suspension of the prescriptive period.
- (D) The waiver is valid, having been accepted by the BIR.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) The waiver is invalid; the date of acceptance is crucial in counting the start of the period of suspension of the prescriptive period.

Section 2 of the Revenue Memorandum Order No. 20-90 provides that the date of such acceptance by the BIR should be indicated. Both the date of execution by the taxpayer and date of acceptance by the BIR should be before the expiration of the period of prescription or before the lapse of the period agreed upon in case a subsequent agreement is executed.

- (B) When a discrepancy has been determined between the tax withheld and the amount actually remitted by the withholding agent.
- (C) When the excise tax due on excisable articles has been paid.
- (D) When an article locally purchased or imported by an exempt person, such as, but not limited to vehicles, capital equipment, machineries and spare parts, has been sold, traded or transferred to non-exempt persons. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

C. When the excise tax due on excisable articles has been paid.

- (d) Notice of informal conference
- (e) Issuance of preliminary assessment notice
- (f) Exceptions to issuance of preliminary assessment notice

A preliminary Assessment Notice (PAN) is NOT required to be issued by the BIR before issuing a Final Assessment Notice (FAN) on one of the following cases: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) When a taxpayer does not pay the 2010 deficiency income tax liability on or before July 15 of the year;
- b) When the finding for any deficiency tax is the result of mathematical error in the computation of the tax as appearing on the face of the return;
- c) When a discrepancy has been determined between the value added tax paid and the amount due for the year;
- d) When the amount of discrepancy shown in the Letter Notice is not paid within thirty (30) days from date of receipt.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

b) When the finding for any deficiency tax is the result of mathematical error in the computation of the tax as appearing on the face of the return

Section 228, NIRC.

Mr. Tiaga has been a law-abiding citizen diligently paying his income taxes. On May 5, 2014, he was surprised to receive an assessment notice from the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) informing him of a deficiency tax assessment as a result of a mathematical error in the computation of his income tax, as appearing on the face of his income tax return for the year 2011, which he filed on April 15, 2012. Mr. Tiaga believes that there was no such error in the computation of his income tax for the year 2011. Based on the assessment received by Mr. Tiaga, may he already file a protest thereon? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

Yes, Mr. Tiaga may already file a protest. Rev. Regs. No. 18-2013, implementing Sec. 228 of the Tax Code, states that no PAN is required if the deficiency tax is a result of a mathematical error in the computation of tax as appearing on the face of the tax return. In such case, an FLD/FAN shall be issued outright. Thus, the assessment notice sent by the BIR is deemed an FLD/FAN which may be the subject of a protest.

(g) Reply to preliminary assessment notice

On July 31, 2011, Esperanza received a preliminary assessment notice from the BIR demanding that she pays P180,000.00 deficiency income taxes on her 2009 income. How many days from July 31, 2011 should Esperanza respond to the notice? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) 180 days.
- (B) 30 days.
- (C) 60 days.
- (D) 15 days.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) 15 days

(h) Issuance of formal letter of demand and assessment notice/final assessment notice

On March 30, 2005 Miguel Foods, Inc. received a notice of assessment and a letter of demand on its April 15, 2002 final adjustment return from the BIR. Miguel Foods then filed a request for reinvestigation together with the requisite supporting documents on April 25, 2005. On June 2, 2005, the BIR issued a final assessment reducing the amount of the tax demanded. Since Miguel Foods was satisfied with the reduction, it did not do anything anymore. On April 15, 2010 the BIR garnished the corporation's bank deposits to answer for the tax liability. Was the BIR action proper? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Yes. The BIR has 5 years from the filing of the protest within which to collect.
- (B) Yes. The BIR has 5 years from the issuance of the final assessment within which to collect.

- (C) No. The taxpayer did not apply for a compromise.
- (D) No. Without the taxpayer's prior authority, the BIR action violated the Bank Deposit Secrecy Law.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Yes. The BIR has 5 years from the issuance of the final assessment within which to collect

On April 15, 2011, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue mailed by registered mail the final assessment notice and the demand letter covering the calendar year 2007 with the QC Post Office. Which statement is correct? (2012 Bar Question)

- a) The assessment notice is void because it was mailed beyond the prescriptive period;
- b) The assessment notice is void because it was not received by the taxpayer within the three-year period from the date of filing of the tax return;
- c) The assessment notice is void if the taxpayer can show that the same was received only after one (1) month from date of mailing;
- d) The assessment notice is valid even if the taxpayer received the same after the three-year period from the date of filing of the tax return.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

d) The assessment notice is valid even if the taxpayer received the same after the three-year period from the date of filing of the tax return.

Section 203, NIRC; BPI v. CIR, G.R. No. 139736, October 17, 2005.

Taxpayer Andy received on January 3, 2010 a preliminary assessment notice (PAN) from the BIR, stating that he had fifteen (15) days from its receipt to comment or to file a protest. Eight (8) days later (or on January 11, 2010), before he could comment or file a protest, Andy received the final assessment notice (FAN).

Decide on the validity of the FAN. (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The FAN is invalid; Andy was not given the chance to respond to the PAN, in violation of his due process rights.
- (B) The FAN is invalid for being premature.
- (C) The FAN is valid since it was issued before the right to assess prescribed.
- (D) The FAN is valid. There is no legal requirement that the FAN should await the protest to the PAN because protest to the PAN is not mandatory.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) The FAN is valid. There is no legal requirement that the FAN should await the protest to the PAN because protest to the PAN is not mandatory.

RR No. 12-99 provides for the due process requirement in the issuance of a deficiency tax assessment pursuant to Section 228 of the NIRC. Under 3.1.1 of RR No. 12-99, if the taxpayer is not amenable to the submitted report of investigation of the revenue officer, the taxpayer shall be informed by the BIR, in writing, of the discrepancy/discrepancies for purposes of the informal conference in order to afford the taxpayer with an opportunity to present his side of the case. His failure to respond within 15 days from the date of the receipt of the notice for the informal conference would result in the issuance of PAN. Therefore, prior to the issuance of the PAN, the taxpayer is already given the opportunity to present his side. Although the same RR provides that the taxpayer is given 15 days to file a protest, his failure to do so or the issuance by the BIR of the FAN before the expiration of the 15-day period, as in the given problem, shall not defeat Andy's right to due process.

Upon issuance of the FAN, Andy may still file an administrative protest within thirty (30) days from the date of receipt thereof. In case of denial of the protest by the Commissioner's authorized representative, Andy may still elevate the adverse decision to the Commissioner within 30 days from its receipt. He may, thereafter, elevate the adverse decision to the CTA and, finally, to the Supreme Court.

Considering, therefore, that Andy could present his side before and after the issuance of the PAN, the reply to the latter is mandatory.

(i) Disputed assessment

No action shall be taken by the BIR on the taxpayer's disputed issues until the taxpayer has paid the deficiency taxes: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) when the assessment was issued against a false and fraudulent return.
- (B) if there was a failure to pay the deficiency tax within 60 days from BIR demand.
- (C) if the Regional Trial Court issues a writ of preliminary injunction to enjoin the BIR.
- (D) attributable to the undisputed issues in the assessment notice.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) attributable to the undisputed issues in the assessment notice.

(j) Administrative decision on a disputed assessment

(vi) Protesting assessment

(a) Protest of assessment by taxpayer

(1) Protested assessment

On March 10, 2010, Continental, Inc. received a preliminary assessment notice (PAN) dated March 1, 2010 issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (CIR) for deficiency income tax for its taxable year 2008. It failed to protest the PAN. The CIR thereupon issued a final assessment notice (FAN) with letter of demand on April 30, 2010. The FAN was received by the corporation on May 10, 2010, following which or on May 25, 2010, it filed its protest against it.

The CIR denied the protest on the ground that the assessment had already become final and executory, the corporation having failed to protest the PAN. Is the CIR correct? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The issuance of preliminary assessment notice (PAN) does not give rise to the right of the taxpayer to protest. What can be protested by a taxpayer is the final assessment notice (FAN) or that assessment issued following the PAN. Since the FAN was timely protested, within 30 days from receipt thereof, the assessment did not become final and executory.

When a protest against the deficiency income tax assessment was denied by the BIR Regional Director of Quezon City, the appeal to the Court of Tax Appeals must be filed by a taxpayer: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) If the amount of basic tax assessed is P100,000.00 or more;
- b) If the amount of basic tax assessed is P300,000.00 or more;
- c) If the amount of basic tax assessed is P500,000.00 or more;
- d) If the amount of basic tax assessed is P1 Million or more;

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

All the choices are correct. All decisions on disputed assessments are appealable to the CTA (in Division) irrespective of the amount (Section 3, RA 9282).

The submission of the required documents within sixty (60) days from the filing of the protest is available only where: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) The taxpayer previously filed a Motion for Reconsideration with the BIR official;
- b) The taxpayer previously filed a request for reconsideration with the BIR official;
- c) The taxpayer previously filed a request for reinvestigation with the BIR official;
- d) The taxpayer previously filed an extension to file a protest with the BIR official.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- c) The taxpayer previously filed a request for reinvestigation with the BIR official

- (b) Submission of documents within 60 days from filing of protest
- (c) Effect of failure to protest

What is the effect on the tax liability of a taxpayer who does not protest an assessment for deficiency taxes? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) The taxpayer may appeal his liability to the CTA since the assessment is a final decision of the Commissioner on the matter.
- (B) The BIR could already enforce the collection of the taxpayer's liability if it could secure authority from the CTA.

- (C) The taxpayer's liability becomes fixed and subject to collection as the assessment becomes final and collectible.
- (D) The taxpayer's liability remains suspended for 180 days from the expiration of the period to protest.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) The taxpayer's liability becomes fixed and subject to collection as the assessment becomes final and collectible.

(d) Period provided for the protest to be acted upon

On March 27, 2012, the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) issued a notice of assessment against Blue Water Industries Inc. (BWI), a domestic corporation, informing the latter of its alleged deficiency corporate income tax for the year 2009. On April 20, 2012, BWI filed a letter protest before the BIR contesting said assessment and demanding that the same be cancelled or set aside.

However, on May 19, 2013, that is, after more than a year from the filing of the letter protest, the BIR informed BWI that the latter's letter protest was denied on the ground that the assessment had already become final, executory and demandable. The BIR reasoned that its failure to decide the case within 180 days from filing of the letter protest should have prompted BWI to seek recourse before the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) by filing a petition for review within thirty (30) days after the expiration of the 180-day period as mandated by the provisions of the last paragraph of Section 228 of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC). Accordingly, BWI's failure to file a petition for review before the CTA rendered the assessment final, executory and demandable. Is the contention of the BIR correct? Explain. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No. Notwithstanding the lapse of the 180-day period, BWI had the option to await the BIR'S final decision on its protest before filing a Petition for Review with the CTA. Pursuant to the case of Lascona Land Co., Inc. v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue (G.R. No. 171251, March 5, 2012), in case the Commissioner fails to act on a taxpayer's protest within the 180-day period, a taxpayer can either: (i) file a petition for review with the Court of Tax Appeals within 30 days after the expiration of the 180-day period; or (ii) await the final decision of the Commissioner on the disputed assessments, and thereafter appeal such final decision to the CTA within 30 days after the receipt of a copy of such decision.¹ In the present case, BWI simply availed itself of the second option.

(c) Effect of failure to appeal

Spanflex Int'l Inc. received a notice of assessment from the BIR. It seasonably filed a protest with all the necessary supporting documents but the BIR failed to act on the protest. Thirty days from the lapse of 180 days from the filing of its protest, Spanflex still has not elevated the matter to the CTA. What remedy, if any, can Spanflex take? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) It may file a motion to admit appeal if it could prove that its failure to appeal was due to the negligence of counsel.
- (B) It may no longer appeal since there is no BIR decision from which it could appeal.
- (C) It may wait for the final decision of the BIR on his protest and appeal it to the CTA within 30 days from receipt of such decision.
- (D) None. Its right to appeal to the CTA has prescribed.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(C) It may wait for the final decision of the BIR on his protest and appeal it to the CTA within 30 days from receipt of such decision.

The taxpayer seasonably filed his protest together with all the supporting documents. It is already July 31, 2011, or 180 days from submission of the protest but the BIR Commissioner has not yet decided his protest. Desirous of an early resolution of his protested assessment, the taxpayer should file his appeal to the Court of Tax Appeals not later than: (2011 Bar Question)

- (B) August 30, 2011.
- (C) August 15, 2011.
- (D) August 1, 2011.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) August 30, 2011

The taxpayer received an assessment notice on April 15, 2011 and filed its request for reinvestigation against the assessment on April 30, 2011. Additional documentary evidence in support of its protest was submitted by it on June 30, 2011. If no denial of the protest was received by the taxpayer, when is the last day for the filing of its appeal to the CTA? (2012 Bar Question)

- a) November 30, 2011;
- b) December 30, 2011;
- c) January 30, 2012;
- d) February 28, 2012.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

c) January 30, 2012

Using the same facts in the immediately preceding number, but assuming that the final decision on the disputed assessment was received by the taxpayer on July 30, 2011, when is the last day for filing of the appeal to the CTA? (2012 Bar Question)

- b) September 30, 2011;
- c) December 30, 2011;
- d) January 30, 2012.

a) August 30, 2011;

Section 228, NIRC (nearest answer but not correct answer)

[Note: The period to appeal is within 30 days from receipt of the final decision by the Commissioner. The decision was received on July 30, 2011 so the last day to perfect an appeal with the CTA is August 29, 2011. It is thus clear that the question did not provide for the CORRECT answer. Hence, it should be treated as a bonus question.]

On May 15, 2013, CCC, Inc. received the Final Decision on Disputed Assessment issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (CIR) dismissing the protest of CCC, Inc. and affirming the assessment against said corporation. On June 10, 2013, CCC, Inc. filed a Petition for Review with the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) in division. On July 31, 2015, CCC, Inc. received a copy of the Decision dated July 22, 2015 of the CT A division dismissing its Petition. CCC, Inc. immediately filed a Petition for Review with the CT A en banc on August 6, 2015. Is the immediate appeal by CCC, Inc. to the CTA en banc of the adverse Decision of the CTA division the proper remedy? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

No, CCC, Inc. should first file a motion for reconsideration with the CTA Division. Petition for review of a decision or resolution of the Court in Division must be preceded by the filing of a timely motion for reconsideration or new trial with the Division. Before the CTA En Banc could take cognizance of the petition for review concerning a case falling under its exclusive appellate jurisdiction, the litigant must sufficiently show that it sought prior reconsideration or moved for a new trial with the concerned CTA division.

- (B) is suspended given that the CTA can reverse BIR decisions when prejudicial to the taxpayer.

- (C) is not suspended because only final decisions of the BIR are subject to appeal.
(D) is not suspended since the continued existence of government depends on tax revenues.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) is not suspended since the continued existence of government depends on tax revenues.

(a) Summary remedy of distraint of personal property

(1) Purchase by the government at sale upon distraint

(2) Report of sale to the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR)

- b) Must be done successively, first by distraint and then by levy;

a) May be repeated, if necessary, until the full amount due, including all expenses, is collected

Section 217, NIRC.

(vii) Tax lien

(viii) Compromise

(a) Authority of the Commissioner to compromise and abate taxes

Does the Court of Appeals have the power to review compromise agreements forged by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and a taxpayer? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

No, for either of two reasons:

(a) in instances in which the CIR is vested with authority to compromise, such authority should be exercised in accordance with the CIR discretion and courts have no power, as a general rule, to compel him to exercise such discretion one way or another.

(b) If the CIR abuses his discretion by not following the parameters set by law, the CTA, not the CA, may correct such abuse if the matter is appealed to it. In case of arbitrary or capricious exercise by the CIR of the power to compromise, the compromise can be attacked and reversed through judicial process. It must be noted however, that a compromise is considered as other matters arising under the NIRC which vests the CTA with jurisdiction and since the decision of the CTA is appealable to the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals is devoid of any power to review a compromise settlement forged by the CIR.

(ix) Civil and criminal actions

Based on the Affidavit of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (CIR), an Information for failure to file income tax return under Section 255 of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC) was filed by the Department of Justice (DOJ) with the Manila Regional Trial Court (RTC) against XX, a Manila resident.

XX moved to quash the Information on the ground that the RTC has no jurisdiction in view of the absence of a formal deficiency tax assessment issued by the CIR.

Is a prior assessment necessary before an Information for violation of Section 255 of the NIRC could be filed in court? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

No. In case of failure to file a return, a proceeding in court for the collection of the tax may be filed without an assessment. The tax can be collected by filing a criminal action with the RTC because a criminal action with the RTC is a mode of collecting the tax liability. Besides, the CIR is empowered to prepare a return on the basis of his own knowledge and upon such information and he can obtain from testimony or otherwise, which shall be prima facie correct and sufficient for legal purposes. The issuance of a formal deficiency tax assessment, therefore, is not required.

(a) Suit to recover tax based on false or fraudulent returns

True or False. (2010 Bar Question)

- a. In civil cases involving the collection of internal revenue taxes, prescription is construed strictly against the government and liberally in favor of the taxpayer. (1%)

- b. In criminal cases involving tax offenses punishable under the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC), prescription is construed strictly against the government. (1%)

SUGGESTED ANSWER: False.

- c. In criminal cases where the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) has exclusive original jurisdiction, the right to file a separate civil action for the recovery of taxes may be reserved. (1%)

SUGGESTED ANSWER: False.

- d. Proceedings before the CTA in the exercise of its exclusive original jurisdiction are in the nature of trial de novo. (1%)

SUGGESTED ANSWER: True.

- e. Judgments, resolutions or orders of the Regional Trial Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction involving criminal offenses arising from violations of the NIRC are appealable to the CTA, which shall hear the cases en banc. (1%)

SUGGESTED ANSWER: False.

The prescriptive period to file a criminal action is: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) Ten (10) years from the date of discovery of the commission of fraud or non-filing of tax return;
b) Five (5) years from the date of issuance of the final assessment notice;
c) Three (3) years from the filing of the annual tax return;
d) Five (5) years from the commission of the violation of the law, and if the same be not known at the time, from the discovery thereof and the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- d) Five (5) years from the commission of the violation of the law, and if the same be not known at the time, from the discovery thereof and the institution of judicial proceedings for its investigation and punishment.

The acquittal of the accused in the criminal action for the failure to file income tax return and failure to supply correct information will have the following consequence: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) The CTA will automatically exempt the accused from any civil liability;
- b) The CTA will still hold the taxpayer liable for deficiency income tax liability in all cases, since preponderance of evidence is merely required for tax cases;
- c) The CTA will impose civil or tax liability only if there was a final assessment notice issued by the BIR against the accused in accordance with the prescribed procedures for issuing assessments, which was presented during the trial;
- d) The CTA will impose civil or tax liability, provided that a computation of the tax liability is presented during the trial.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

c) The CTA will impose civil or tax liability only if there was a final assessment notice issued by the BIR against the accused in accordance with the prescribed procedures for issuing assessments, which was presented during the trial

OR

d) The CTA will impose civil or tax liability, provided that a computation of the tax liability is presented during the trial.

c) Refund

(i) Grounds and requisites for refund

X Corporation had excess income tax payment for the year 2008, which it chose to carry over in 2009. In filing its 2009 corporate income tax return, it signified its intention (by checking the small box "refund" at the bottom of the return) to get a refund of the overpaid amount in 2008. Can the refund be allowed or not, and if disallowed, does X Corporation lose the claimed amount? (2012 Bar Question)

- a) X Corporation may not get the refund because the decision to carry over in 2008 was irrevocable for that year, and it may not change that decision in succeeding years;
- b) X Corporation may not get the refund in 2009, but the amount being claimed as refund may be utilized in succeeding years until fully exhausted because there is no prescriptive period for carry over of excess income tax payments;
- c) X Corporation may get the refund, provided that it will no longer carry over such amount or utilize the same against its income tax liability in the future;
- d) X Corporation may file instead a claim of tax credit, in lieu of refund.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

b) X Corporation may not get the refund in 2009, but the amount being claimed as refund may be utilized in succeeding years until fully exhausted because there is no prescriptive period for carry over of excess income tax payments

Section 76, NIRC.

The carry-over of excess income tax payments is no longer limited to the succeeding taxable year. Unutilized excess income tax payments may now be carried over to the succeeding taxable years until fully utilized. In addition, the option to carry-over excess income tax payments is now irrevocable. Hence, unutilized excess income tax payments may no longer be refunded. (Belle Corp. v. CIR, G.R. No. 181298, January 10, 2011)

- (e) Tax refund vis-à-vis tax credit

Mirador, Inc., a domestic corporation, filed its Annual Income Tax Return for its taxable year 2008 on April 15, 2009. In the Return, it reflected an income tax overpayment of P1,000,000.00 and indicated its choice to carry-over the overpayment as an automatic tax credit against its income tax liabilities in subsequent years.

On April 15, 2010, it filed its Annual Income Tax Return for its taxable year 2009 reflecting a taxable loss and an income tax overpayment for the current year 2009 in the amount of P500,000.00 and its income tax overpayment for the prior year 2008 of P1,000,000.00.

In its 2009 Return, the corporation indicated its option to claim for refund the total income tax overpayment of P1,500,000.00

Choose which of the following statements is correct.

- a. Mirador, Inc. may claim as refund the total income tax overpayment of P1,500,000.00 reflected in its income tax return for its taxable year 2009;
 - b. It may claim as refund the amount of P500,000.00 representing its income tax overpayment for its taxable year 2009; or
 - c. No amount may be claimed as refund.
- Explain the basis of your answer. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

b. It may claim as refund the amount of P500,000.00 representing its income tax overpayment for its taxable year 2009.

Since it has opted to carry-over the Php 1.0M overpaid income tax for taxable year 2008, said option is considered irrevocable and no application for cash refund shall be allowed for it.

In its final adjustment return for the 2010 taxable year, ABC Corp. had excess tax credits arising from its over-withholding of income payments. It opted to carry over the excess tax credits to the following year. Subsequently, ABC Corp. changed its mind and applied for a refund of the excess tax credits.

Will the claim for refund prosper? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The claim for refund will not prosper as it is barred by the irrevocability rule.

Paragraph 2, Section 76 of the NIRC embodies the irrevocability rule. This rule provides that a corporation which is entitled to a tax credit or refund of the excess estimated quarterly income taxes paid has two options: (1) to carry-over the excess credit; or (2) to apply for the issuance of a tax credit certificate or to claim a cash refund. If the corporation opts to carry-over its excess credit in the final adjustment return, its choice shall be irrevocable for that taxable period. The purpose of this rule is to prevent a taxpayer from claiming excess tax credits twice.

In the given problem, ABC Corp. opted to carry-over its excess tax credits for the 2010 taxable year. Consequently, ABC Corp. can no longer revoke its choice to carry-over the excess tax credits and instead claim for a refund.

(f) Essential requisites for claim of refund

(v) Who may claim/apply for tax refund/tax credit

(a) Taxpayer/withholding agents of non-resident foreign corporation

(vi) Prescriptive period for recovery of tax erroneously or illegally collected

As a general rule, within what period must a taxpayer elevate to the Court of Tax Appeals a denial of his application for refund of income tax overpayment? (2011 Bar Question)

- (C) Within 2 years from payment of the income taxes sought to be refunded.
- (D) Within 30 days from receipt of the denial or within two years from payment.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(B) Within 30 days from receipt of the denial which must not exceed 2 years from payment of income tax.

In case of full or partial denial of the written claim for refund or excess input tax directly attributable to zero-rated sales, or the failure on the part of the Commissioner to act on the application within 120 days from the date of submission of complete documents, an appeal must be filed with the CTA: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) Within thirty (30) days after filing the administrative claim with the BIR;
- b) Within sixty (60) days after filing the administrative claim with the BIR;
- c) Within one hundred twenty (120) days after filing the administrative claim with the BIR;
- d) Within thirty (30) days from the receipt of the decision denying the claim or after the expiration of the 120-day period.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

d) Within thirty (30) days from the receipt of the decision denying the claim or after the expiration of the 120-day period.

In case of full or partial denial by the CIR, the taxpayer's recourse is to file an appeal before the CTA within 30 days from receipt of the decision of the CIR. However, if after the 120-day period the CIR fails to act on the application for tax refund/credit, the remedy of the taxpayer is to appeal the inaction of the CIR to CTA within 30 days. (*CIR v. Anion, Inc. received a notice of assessment and a letter from the BIR demanding the payment of P3 million pesos in deficiency income taxes for the taxable year 2008. The financial statements of the company show that it has been suffering financial reverses from the year 2009 up to the present. Its asset position shows that it could pay only P500,000.00 which it offered as a compromise to the BIR. Which among the following may the BIR require to enable it to enter into a compromise with Anion, Inc.? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Anion must show it has faithfully paid taxes before 2009.
- (B) Anion must promise to pay its deficiency when financially able.
- (C) Anion must waive its right to the secrecy of its bank deposits.

F. Organization and Function of the Bureau of Internal Revenue

1. Rule-making authority of the Secretary of Finance

a) Authority of Secretary of Finance to promulgate rules and regulations

MMM, Inc., a domestic telecommunications company, handles incoming telecommunications services for non-resident foreign companies by relaying international calls within the Philippines. To broaden the coverage of its telecommunications services throughout the country, MMM, Inc. entered into various interconnection agreements with local carriers. The non-resident foreign corporations pay MMM, Inc. in US dollars inwardly remitted through Philippine banks, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas.

MMM, Inc. filed its Quarterly VAT Returns for 2000. Subsequently, MMM, Inc. timely filed with the BIR an administrative claim for the refund of the amount of P6,321,486.50, representing excess input VAT attributable to its effectively zero-rated sales in 2000. The BIR ruled to deny the claim for refund of MMM, Inc. because the VAT official receipts submitted by MMM, Inc. to substantiate said claim did not bear the words "zero-rated" as required under Section 4.108-1 of Revenue Regulations (RR) No. 7-95. On appeal, the CTA division and the CT A en bane affirmed the BIR ruling.

MMM, Inc. appealed to the Supreme Court arguing that the NIRC itself did not provide for such a requirement. RR No. 7-95 should not prevail over a taxpayer's substantive right to claim tax refund or credit.

a. Rule on the appeal of MMM, Inc.

b. Will your answer in (a) be any different if MMM, Inc. was claiming refund of excess input VAT attributable to its effectively zero-rated sales in 2012? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. The appeal of MMM, Inc. must be denied. MMM, Inc.'s position that the requirements under RR No. 7-95 should not prevail over a taxpayer's substantive right to claim tax refund or credit is unmeritorious.

The Secretary of Finance has the authority to promulgate the necessary rules and regulations for the effective enforcement of the provisions of the NIRC. Such rules and regulations are given weight and respect by the courts in view of the rule-making authority given to those who formulate them and their specific expertise in their respective fields.

An applicant for a claim for tax refund or tax credit must not only prove entitlement to the claim but also compliance with all the documentary and evidentiary requirements. Consequently, the CTA and the CTA en banc correctly ruled that the failure to indicate the words "zero-rated" on the invoices and receipts issued by a taxpayer would result in the denial of the claim for refund or tax credit.

b. No. In Kepco Philippines Corporation v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the Supreme Court ruled that the subsequent incorporation of Section 4.108-1 of RR 7-95 in Section 113(B)(2)(c) of RA 9337 actually confirmed the validity of the imprinting requirement on VAT invoices or official receipts – a case falling under the principle of legislative approval of administrative interpretation by reenactment.

b) Specific provisions to be contained in rules and regulations

2. Power of the Commissioner to suspend the business operation of a taxpayer

In "Operation Kandado," the BIR temporarily closed business establishments, including New Dynasty Corporation that failed to comply with VAT regulations. New Dynasty contends that it should not be temporarily closed since it has a valid and existing VAT registration, it faithfully issued VAT receipts, and filed the proper VAT returns. The contention may be rejected if the BIR investigation reveals that: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) the taxpayer has not been regularly filing its income tax returns for the past 4 years.
- (B) the taxpayer deliberately filed a false and fraudulent return with deliberate intention to evade taxes.
- (C) the taxpayer used falsified documents to support its application for refund of taxes.
- (D) there was an understatement of taxable sales or receipts by 30% or more for the taxable quarter.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) there was an understatement of taxable sales or receipts by 30% or more for the taxable quarter.

- a) It must not contravene the Constitution or any statute;
- b) It must not be unfair or oppressive;
- c) It must not be partial or discriminatory;
- d) It may prohibit or regulate trade.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Prior to the enactment of the Local Government Code, consumer's cooperatives registered under the Cooperative Development Act enjoyed exemption from all taxes imposed by a local government. With the Local Government Code's withdrawal of exemptions, could these cooperatives continue to enjoy such exemption? (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) Yes, because the Local Government Code, a general law, could not amend a special law such as the Cooperative Development Act.
- (B) No, Congress has not by the majority vote of all its members granted exemption to consumers' cooperatives.
- (C) No, the exemption has been withdrawn to level the playing field for all taxpayers and preserve the LGUs' financial position.
- (D) Yes, their exemption is specifically mentioned among those not withdrawn by the Local Government Code.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(D) Yes, their exemption is specifically mentioned among those not withdrawn by the Local Government Code.

b) Taxing powers of cities

Ferremaro, Inc., a manufacturer of handcrafted shoes, maintains its principal office in Cubao, Quezon City. It has branches/sales offices in Cebu and Davao. Its factory is located in Marikina City where most of its workers live. Its principal office in Quezon City is also a sales office.

Sales of finished products for calendar year 2009 in the amount of P10 million were made at the following locations:

1) Cebu branch	25%
2) Davao branch	15%
3) Quezon City branch	60%
Total	100%

Where should the applicable local taxes on the shoes be paid? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Under the LGC, the manufacturers maintaining a branch or sales outlet shall record the sale in the branch or sales outlet making the sale and pay the tax in the city or municipality where the branch or sales outlet is located. Since Ferremaro, Inc., maintains one factory, the sales recorded in the principal office shall be allocated and 30% of said sales are taxable in the place where the principal office is located while the 70% is taxable in the place where the factory is located.

Hence, 25% of total sales or Php 2.5M shall be taxed in Cebu and 15% of total sales or Php 1.5M shall be taxed in Davao. For the remaining 60% sales amounting to Php 6.0M which is recorded in the principal office, 30% thereof or Php 1.8M is taxable in Quezon City where the principal office is located and 70% or Php 4.2M is taxable in Marikina City where the factory is located.

XYZ Shipping Corporation is a branch of an international shipping line with voyages between Manila and the West Coast of the U.S. The company's vessels load and unload cargoes at the Port of Manila, albeit it does not have a branch or sales office in Manila. All the bills of lading and invoices are issued by the branch office in Makati which is also the company's principal office.

The City of Manila enacted an ordinance levying a 2% tax on gross receipts of shipping lines using the Port of Manila.

Can the City Government of Manila legally impose said levy on the corporation? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

No, Manila cannot legally levy the 2% Gross Receipts Tax on thi shipping line because taxes on the gross receipts of transportation contractors and persons engaged in the transportation of passengers or freight by hire and common carriers by air, and or water is beyond the taxing powers of the local government units.

The City Government of Manila may NOT impose:

- a) Basic real property tax at 2% of the assessed value of real property;
- b) Additional levy on real property for the special education fund at 1% of the assessed value of real property;
- c) Additional ad valorem tax on idle lands at a rate not exceeding 5% of the assessed value;
- d) Special levy on lands within its territory specially benefited by public works projects or improvements funded by it at 80% of the actual cost of the projects or improvements.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- d) Special levy on lands within its territory specially benefited by public works projects or improvements funded by it at 80% of the actual cost of the projects or improvements

Section 240, RA 7160.

ABC Corporation is registered as a holding company and has an office in the City of Makati. It has no actual business operations. It invested in another company and its earnings are limited to dividends from this investment, interests on its bank deposits, and foreign exchange gains from its foreign currency account. The City of Makati assessed ABC Corporation as a contractor or one that sells services for a fee. Is the City of Makati correct? (2013 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The City of Makati is wrong in assessing ABC Corp. as a contractor.

First, ABC Corp. is not a contractor as defined in Section 131(h) of Republic Act No. 7160 or the Local Government Code (LGC). This provision defines a contractor as a person, natural or juridical, not subject to professional tax under the LGC, but whose activity consists essentially of the sale of all kinds of services for a fee, regardless of whether or not the performance of the service calls for the exercise or use of the physical or mental faculties of such contractor or his employees.

In the given problem, ABC Corp. is merely a holding company whose earnings are limited to dividends, interests on bank deposits and foreign exchange gains from foreign currency account. Evidently, ABC Corp. is not engaged in the sale of services for a fee.

Second, Section 186 of LGC provides that local government units cannot levy taxes, fees or charges on any base or subject tax under the provisions of the NIRC.

In the given problem, ABC Corp.'s dividends, interest income and foreign exchange gains from foreign currency account are already subject to final income tax under the NIRC, specifically, Sections 27(D)(4), 27(D)(1), 32(A), respectively. Consequently, the City of Makati cannot levy from ABC Corp. taxes on these incomes.

- b) Legislative acts passed by the municipal council in the exercise of its lawmaking authority are denominated as resolutions;
- c) Legislative acts passed by the municipal council in the exercise of its lawmaking authority are denominated as ordinances;
- d) Both ordinances and resolutions are solemn and formal acts.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

c) Legislative acts passed by the municipal council in the exercise of its lawmaking authority are denominated as ordinances

One of the local government units below does NOT have the power to impose real property tax: (2012 Bar Question)

- a) Bacoar, Cavite;
- b) Davao City;
- c) Tarlac Province;
- d) Malabon, Metro Manila.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a) Bacoar, Cavite

Section 200, RA 7160.

[Note: The answer above is premised on the belief that Bacoar is a municipality and the LGC does not vest municipalities with the power to impose real property taxes, except for municipalities within the Metropolitan Manila area. However, Bacoar is already a city hence, can no longer be a correct choice. Since the question did not provide for the CORRECT answer, it should be treated as a bonus.]

d) Taxing powers of barangays

After the province has constructed a barangay road, the Sangguniang Panglalawigan may impose a special levy upon the lands specifically benefitted by the road up to an amount not to exceed: (2011 Bar Question)

- (A) 60% of the actual cost of the road without giving any portion to the barangay.
- (B) 100% of the actual project cost without giving any portion to the barangay.
- (C) 100% of the actual project cost, keeping 60% for the province and giving 40% to the barangay.
- (D) 60% of the actual cost, dividing the same between the province and the barangay.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

(A) 60% of the actual cost of the road without giving any portion to the barangay.

Pheleco is a power generation and distribution company operating mainly from the City of Taguig. It owns electric poles which it also rents out to other companies that use poles such as telephone and cable companies. Taguig passed an ordinance imposing a fee equivalent to 1% of the annual rental for these poles. Pheleco questioned 'the legality of the ordinance on the ground that it imposes an income tax which local government units (LGUs) are prohibited from imposing.

Rule on the validity of the ordinance. (1%)(2013 Bar Question)

- (A) The ordinance is void; the fee is based on rental income and is therefore a tax on income.
- (B) The ordinance is valid as a legitimate exercise of police power to regulate electric poles.
- (C) The ordinance is void; 1% of annual rental is excessive and oppressive.
- (D) The ordinance is valid; an LGU may impose a tax on income.

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- (A) The ordinance is void; the fee is based on rental income and is therefore a tax on income.

The Sec. 32(A)(5) of the NIRC includes “rents” in the enumeration of taxable income. Under Section 133¹¹ of the LGC, the exercise of the taxing powers of provinces, cities, municipalities, and barangays shall not extend to the levy of income tax except when levied on banks and other financial institutions.

In accordance with the Local Government Code (LGC), the Sangguniang Panglungsod (SP) of Baguio City enacted Tax Ordinance No. 19, Series of 2014, imposing a P50.00 tax on all the tourists and travellers going to Baguio City. In imposing the local tax, the SP reasoned that the tax collected will be used to maintain the cleanliness of Baguio City and for the beautification of its tourist attractions. (D) is punishable by administrative penalty only.

Claiming the tax to be unjust, Baguio Travellers Association (BTA), an association of travel agencies in Baguio City, filed a petition for declaratory relief before the Regional Trial Court (RTC) because BTA was apprehensive that tourists might cancel their bookings with BTA’s member agencies. BTA also prayed for the issuance of a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) to enjoin Baguio City from enforcing the local tax on their customers and on all tourists going to Baguio City.

The RTC issued a TRO enjoining Baguio City from imposing the local tax. Aggrieved, Baguio City filed a petition for certiorari before the Supreme Court (SC) seeking to set aside the TRO issued by the RTC on the ground that collection of taxes cannot be enjoined. Will the petition prosper? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

No, the petition for certiorari filed by Baguio City will not prosper. As stated in Valley Trading Co., Inc. v. CFI of Isabela (G.R. No. L-49529, March 31, 1989) and Angeles City v. Angeles City Electric Corporation (G.R. No. 166134, June 29, 2010), the prohibition on the issuance of an order or writ enjoining the collection of taxes applies only to national internal revenue taxes, and not to local taxes. Unlike the NIRC, there is no express provision in the Local Government Code which prohibits courts from enjoining the collection of such taxes. Therefore, the RTC was properly vested with authority to issue the assailed TRO enjoining Baguio City from imposing the local tax.

In 2014, M City approved an ordinance levying customs duties and fees on goods coming into the territorial jurisdiction of the city. Said city ordinance was duly published on February 15, 2014 with effectivity date on March 1, 2014.

¹¹ Common Limitations on the Taxing Powers of Local Government Units.

- a. Is there a ground for opposing said ordinance?
- b. What is the proper procedural remedy and applicable time periods for challenging the ordinance? (2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

a. Yes, on the ground that the ordinance is ultra-vires. The taxing powers of local government units, such as M City, cannot extend to the levy of taxes, fees and charges already imposed by the national government, and this include, among others, the levy of customs duties under the Tariff and Customs Code.

b. Any question on the constitutionality or legality of tax ordinances may be raised on appeal within thirty (30) days from the effectivity to the Secretary of Justice. The Secretary of Justice shall render a decision within sixty (60) days from the date of receipt of the appeal. Thereafter, within thirty (30) days after receipt of the decision or the lapse of the sixty-day period without the Secretary of Justice acting upon the appeal, the aggrieved party may file the appropriate proceedings with the Regional Trial Court.

What is the basis for the computation of business tax on contractors under the Local Government Code? (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

The business tax on contractors is a graduated annual fixed tax based on the gross receipts for the preceding calendar year. If the gross receipts amount to more than Php 2.0 Million the business is subject to a percentage tax at the rate of 50% of 1%.

How are retiring businesses taxed under the Local Government Code? (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

They are taxed on their sales or gross receipts in the current year and not on the preceding year. If the tax paid in the current year is less than the tax due on gross sales or receipts of the current year, the difference shall be paid before the business is considered officially retired.

On May 15, 2009, La Manga Trading Corporation received a deficiency business tax assessment of P1,500,000.00 from the Pasay City Treasurer. On June 30, 2009, the corporation contested the assessment by filing a written protest with the City Treasurer.

On October 10, 2009, the corporation received a collection letter from the City Treasurer, drawing it to file on October 25, 2009 an appeal against the assessment before the Pasay Regional Trial Court (RTC).

- a. Was the protest of the corporation filed on time? Explain.
- b. Was the appeal with the Pasay RTC filed on time? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

- a. The protest was filed on time. The taxpayer has the right to protest an assessment of local taxes within 60 days from receipt thereof.
- b. The appeal was not filed on time. When an assessment is protested, the treasurer has 60 days within which to decide. The taxpayer has 30 days from receipt of the denial of the protest or from the lapse of the 60-day period to decide, whichever comes first to appeal, otherwise, the assessment becomes conclusive and unappealable. Since no decision on the protest was made, the taxpayer should have appealed to the RTC within 30 days from the lapse of the period to decide on the protest.

Doña Evelina, a rich widow engaged in the business of currency exchange, was assessed a considerable amount of local business taxes by the City Government of Baguio by virtue of Tax Ordinance No. 24. Despite her objections thereto, Doña Evelina paid the taxes. Nevertheless, unsatisfied with said Tax Ordinance, Doña Evelina, through her counsel Atty. ELP, filed a written claim for recovery of said local business taxes and contested the assessment. Her claim was denied, and so Atty. ELP elevated her case to the Regional Trial Court (RTC).

The RTC declared Tax Ordinance No. 24 null and void and without legal effect for having been enacted in violation of the public action requirement of tax ordinances and revenue measures under the Local Government Code (LGC) and on the ground of double taxation. On appeal, the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA) affirmed the decision of the RTC. No motion for reconsideration was filed and the decision became final and executory. (4%)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) Move for the execution of the judgment which has already become final.

(B) Yes, subject to the tax benefit rule. The local business tax paid is a business-connected tax hence, deductible from gross income. If at the time of its deduction it resulted to a tax benefit to Dona Evelina, then the recovery will form part of gross income to the extent of the tax benefit on the previous deduction (Section 34(C)(1), NIRC).

The test of exemption from the tax is not ownership but the beneficial use of the property.

Madam X owns real property in Caloocan City. On July 1, 2014, she received a notice of assessment from the City Assessor, informing her of a deficiency tax on her property. She wants to contest the assessment. (4%)

(A) What are the administrative remedies available to Madam X in order to contest the assessment and their respective prescriptive periods?

(B) May Madam X refuse to pay the deficiency tax assessment during the pendency of her appeal? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

(A) The administrative remedies available to Madam X to contest the assessment and their respective prescriptive periods are as follows:

1. Pay the deficiency real property tax under protest (Section 252, LGC);
2. File the protest with the local treasurer – The protest in writing must be filed within thirty (30) days from payment of the tax to the provincial, city, or municipal treasurer, in the case of a municipality within Metropolitan Manila Area, who shall decide the protest within sixty (60) days from receipt (Section 252, LGC);
3. Appeal to the LBAA – If protest is denied or upon the lapse of the 60-day period for the treasurer to decide, the taxpayer may appeal to the LBAA within 60 days and the case decided within 120 days (Section 226 & 229, LGC)
4. Appeal to the CBAA – If not satisfied with the decision of the LBAA, appeal to the CBAA within 30 days from receipt of a copy of the decision (Section 229(c), LGC).

(B) No. The payment of the deficiency tax is a condition before she can protest the deficiency assessment. It is the decision on the protest or inaction thereon that gives her the right to appeal. This means that she cannot refuse to pay the deficiency tax assessment during the pendency of the appeal because it is the payment itself which gives rise to the remedy. The law provides that no protest (which is the beginning of the dispute process) shall be entertained unless the taxpayer first pays the tax (Section 252, LGC).

What is the rule on appeal from decisions of the Collector of Customs in protest and seizure cases? When is the decision of the Collector of Customs appealable to the Court of Tax Appeals? Explain. (2010 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

Decisions of the Collector of Customs in protest and seizure cases are appealable to the Commissioner of Customs within 15 days from receipt of notice of the written decision of the Collector.

As a rule, decisions of the Collector of Customs are not appealable to the CTA. MSI Corp. imports orange and lemon concentrates as raw materials for the fruit drinks it sells locally. The Bureau of Customs (BOC) imposed a 1% duty rate on the concentrates. Subsequently, the BOC changed its position and held that the concentrates should be taxed at 7% duty rate. MSI disagreed with the ruling and questioned it in the CTA which upheld MSI's position. The Commissioner of Customs appealed to the CTA en banc without filing a motion for reconsideration.

The City of Liwliwa assessed local business taxes against Talin Company. Claiming that there is double taxation, Talin Company filed a Complaint for Refund or Recovery of Illegally and/or Erroneously-collected Local Business Tax; Prohibition with Prayer to Issue Temporary Restraining Order and Writ of Preliminary Injunction with the Regional Trial Court (RTC). The RTC denied the application for a Writ of Preliminary Injunction. Since its motion for reconsideration was denied, Talin Company filed a special civil action for certiorari with the Court of Appeals (CA). The government lawyer representing the City of Liwliwa prayed for the dismissal of the petition on the ground that the same should have been filed with the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA). Talin Company, through its lawyer, Atty. Frank, countered that the CTA cannot entertain a petition for certiorari since it is not one of its powers and authorities under existing laws and rules.

Decide. (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER :

The petition for certiorari before the CA must be dismissed, since such petition should have been filed with the CTA. As stated in City of Manila v. Caridad H. Grecia-Cuerdo (G.R. No. 175723, February 2, 2014, 715 SCRA 182), the CTA has the power to determine whether or not there has been grave abuse of discretion amounting to lack or excess of jurisdiction on the part of the RTC in issuing interlocutory orders in cases falling within the CTA's exclusive appellate jurisdiction. The CTA therefore has jurisdiction to issue writs of certiorari in such cases. Furthermore, its authority to entertain petitions for certiorari questioning interlocutory orders issued by the RTC is included in the powers granted by the Constitution and inherent in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

GGG, Inc. offered to sell through competitive bidding its shares in HHH Corp., equivalent to 40% of the total outstanding capital stock of the latter. JJJ, Inc. acquired the said shares in HHH Corp. as the highest bidder. Before it could secure a certificate authorizing registration/tax clearance for the transfer of the shares of stock to JJJ, Inc., GGG, Inc. had to request a ruling from the BIR confirming that its sale of the said shares was at fair market value and was thus not subject to donor's tax. In BIR Ruling No. 012-14, the CIR held that the selling price for the shares of stock of HHH Corp. was lower than their book value, so the difference between the selling price and the book value of said shares was a taxable donation. GGG, Inc. requested the Secretary of Finance to review BIR Ruling No. 012-14, but the Secretary affirmed said ruling. GGG, Inc. filed with the Court of Appeals a Petition for Review under Rule 43 of the Revised Rules of Court. The Court of Appeals, however, dismissed the Petition for lack of jurisdiction declaring that it is the CTA which has jurisdiction over the issues raised. Before which Court should GGG, Inc. seek recourse from the adverse ruling of the Secretary of Finance in the exercise of the latter's power of review?
(2015 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

GGG should file its petition with the Court of Tax Appeals. The Supreme Court held that the jurisdiction to review the rulings of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue pertains to the CTA which has the authority to issue, among others, a writ of certiorari in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction.

XI. Documentary Stamp Tax

In a civil case for Annulment of Contract of Sale, plaintiff Ma. Reklamo presented in evidence the Contract of Sale which she sought to be annulled. No documentary stamp tax on the Contract of Sale was paid because according to plaintiff Ma. Reklamo, there was no need to pay the same since the sale was not registered with the Register of Deeds. Plaintiff Ma. Reklamo is now offering the Contract of Sale as her evidence. Is the Contract of Sale admissible? (2014 Bar Question)

SUGGESTED ANSWER:

No. The Contract of Sale cannot be admitted in evidence. The document is clearly taxable because the law imposes a documentary stamp tax (DST) on Sales and Agreements to Sell, and Memoranda of Sale (Section 175, NIRC). Since the DST thereon is not paid, the effect is that the instrument, document or paper which require by law to be stamped and which has been signed, issues, accepted and transferred without being duly stamped shall not be recorded, nor shall it be used in evidence in any court until the requisite stamp or stamps shall have been affixed thereto and cancelled (Section 201, NIRC). In the case at bar, no documentary stamp tax was paid on the Contract of Sale, hence, it cannot be used as her evidence in court.
